Foreword

Year by year the motif of the Evergreen and Gold changes, and in this, our twenty-seventh publication, we are again faced with the selection of an appropriate one. The war suggested patriotic themes, peace presented new problems. The solution of intricate world problems requires expert leadership. Our boys who have returned from the battlefronts all over the world realize that education is essential for this leadership, so they have enrolled by the hundreds in this and other universities. To accommodate them the University must expand, and is doing so as rapidly as shortages and strikes will permit. The steel construction of the Medical Building, the Nissen Huts, the Nurses' Residence, the plans for the Students' Union Building are familiar to us all. Small wonder then that we chose for our motif "expansion and construction on the campus of the University of Alberta."

Although our motif changes, our objective remains the constant. This is your book, a tangible reminder of the busy weeks and months you spent on this campus, listening to lectures, "cramming" in the library, consuming numerous cups of coffee in Tuck or Caf, attending House Dances and formal in the "Drill Shed" or taking part in sports and club activities. Our objective is to present you with a graphic and pictorial record of the year 1946-47, when you were a student at the University of Alberta.

But it would be a presumption to detain you further—turn over the pages and follow our little construction bear, through this volume to see for yourself what we mean by "our expanding University."

president's message

PRESIDENT ROBERT NEWTON, M.C., B.S.A., M.Sc., Ph.D., D.Sc., F.R.S.C.

Astronomers tell us the universe is expanding. At least there is no doubt that the bounds of our interests and contacts within our own little corner of the universe are being pushed outwards more and more rapidly, and that much constructive work is needed to offset the disintegrating effects of the centrifugal forces so developed. Therefore in choosing "expansion and construction" as the general theme for the 1946-47 Evergreen and Gold the editor has hit upon something that should appeal to every student.

To build is an instinct almost universal in the animate world. Bees build nests, rodents build tunnels, men build houses, all for the purpose of improving or safeguarding their conditions of life. But mankind is unique in its capacity for building in the realm of mind and conscience.

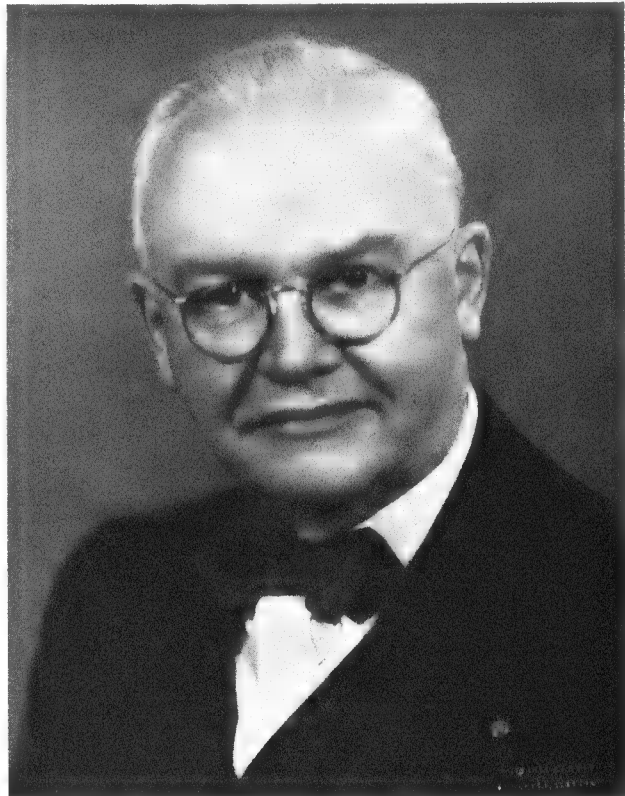

The state of the world today is ample evidence that we have concentrated too much on material things. We have built motor cars of great mechanical efficiency, but not the good manners that would insure careful driving and comparable safety. We have built roads, bridges, streamlined trains, ships, aeroplanes, telecommunications, all the physical concomitants of one world, but not the character, social justice, and ethics to fit us to be citizens of such a world.

Here then is a challenge to university students and graduates, to dedicate their talents, be they one or ten, to the realization of the kind of world God has made possible. Native gifts are not enough. Even education is not enough. There must be devotion to high ideals; there must be intensity of purpose; there must be a spirit of sacrifice.

George Frederick Handel, a man of great gifts and thorough training, had also the foregoing supplementary qualities. While writing "The Messiah", his crowning achievement, he said, "The heavens opened to me, and I saw God."

That vision may come to us too, if we throw ourselves wholeheartedly into the work of building an expanding world.

Dr. W. D. Ferris and Dr. Rutherford turned the first sod for the Arts Building in 1909. During the 1914-15 term, on completion of the building, the library and offices were moved from Athabasca Hall to their present position.

In 1925 a memorial organ was installed in Convocation Hall in honor of the students who gave their lives in the war of 1914-18. It was rededicated to the fallen of World War II in the fall of '46. Annually on Armistice Day, Professor Nichols, Organist to the University, gives a memorial recital.

It is hoped that with the expansion of the University, sciences will be removed to permanent quarters, leaving the Arts Building exclusively for the teaching of Arts subjects.

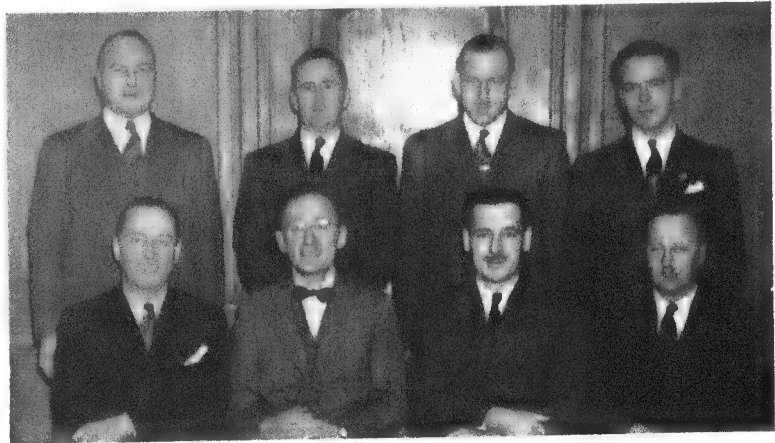

The Arts Building houses Con Hall, the bookstore, the administrative offices, the library, the Wauneita room, the Post Office, a geological museum, lecture rooms, labs, and once a year the Engineers' Parade.

YOUR FUTURE!!

Dr. Tory saw one of his dreams come true when, in the fall of 1921, the Medical and Chemical Building was opened for classes. Since then it has seen many changes . . . new departments have been squeezed in, profs and students have come and gone and the University has grown up.

Hut accommodation has been provided for the Provincial Lab which moved in with all the pomp and ceremony generally attributed to a new building. At present, two new wings are being added to remedy some of the over-crowding. The east wing will house the Med. library, Dentistry faculty and the Bacteriology department. The Chemistry department and chemical engineers eventually will expand into the new west wing.

The Med. Building is the home of the Medical and Dentistry faculties, the Medical and Chemical libraries, Zoological show cases and the two amphitheatre lecture rooms. In the famous labs, Chem. 40 students fight for bench space, Med. students find out what makes them tick, House Eccers distract Honors Chem. students and Dents practice on fellow sufferers. Even at night the lights blaze in Med. for night labs, choir practices, scientific films, Philosoph meetings and dozens of other activities.

SOLID COMFORT

The University of Alberta Hospital, opened in 1922 as the Strathcona Hospital, was created by an Act of Provincial Legislature in 1929. It is governed by a Board consisting of six appointed members and guided by the advice of the Medical Advisory Board.

The University Hospital conducts an extensive training program in connection with the University. From their third year to their Senior internship, medical students attend clinics and operations, and in general learn to apply the theory they have learned. Student nurses train in these wards and learn how to carry out the doctor's instructions. Student dietitians, too, may take their internship at the University Hospital in preparation for the day when they take charge of a hospital kitchen themselves.

THE ONE QUIET SPOT ON THE CAMPUS

The newest addition to the University Hospital is a modern veteran wing completed in 1945, with a three hundred bed capacity. It was named after one of the University's outstanding surgeons, Colonel Warren Hastings Mewburn.

The sunny wards are very modern. Each bed has radio ear-phones so that all patients may listen to the latest news, music or drama without bothering their neighbors. Each ward has a sitting room which has been furnished by some service club or organization. Up-patients may get away from the usual hospital surroundings during the day or entertain their friends in these rooms during visiting hours.

On the main floor is a theatre where concerts, parties, dances, and shows are sponsored for all the patients. Here too, is a canteen . . . the "Tuck Shop" of the Col. Mewburn Pavilion.

power house

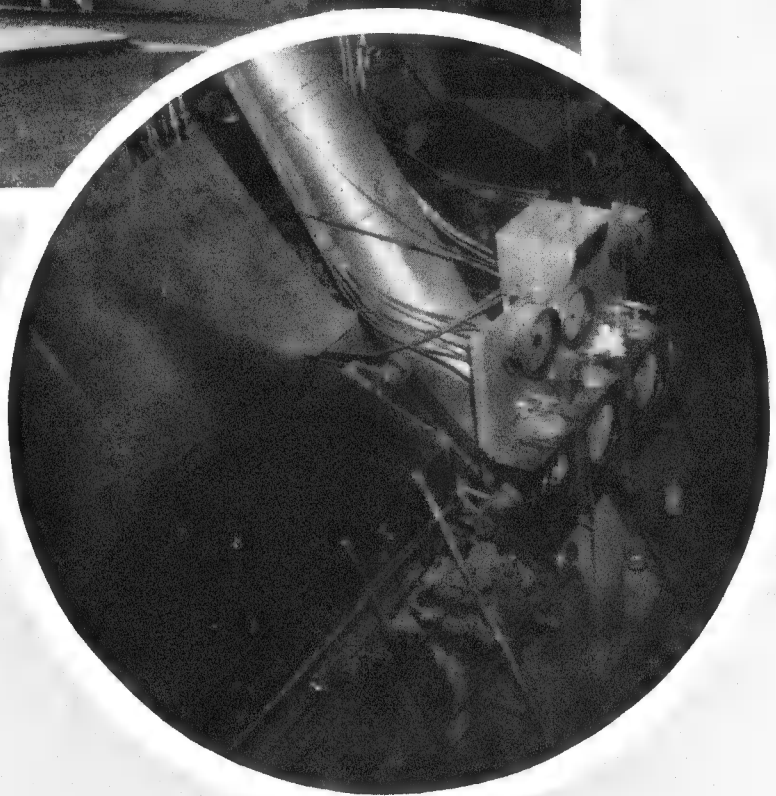

The Power House, situated between the South Lab and the Med. Building, was built as a temporary structure after the last war, but seems to have become a permanent part of Alberta's campus.

Primarily it is the University power plant, but the "wireworms"—third and fourth year electricals to the uneducated—also have lecture rooms and labs located here. They have all the equipment of the Power House at their disposal for practical training.

The Department of Extension is quartered in this building. It is the aim of this department to spread the benefits of U. of A. throughout the province by sponsoring dramatics and lecture tours. Large libraries of films, records and information are also ready to serve the public.

Tucked in with the Electrical Engineers and the Department of Extension is the Animal Nutrition Lab of the Faculty of Agriculture.

In 1945 an addition was made to house a great deal of necessary equipment and the size of the building was nearly doubled.

south lab

Engineers seldom regard the South Lab. as a formidable lecture building because its bridge games and bull sessions do much to give it an air of informality. Since it was built in 1918 it has been periodically renovated and remodelled. The eastern end is now occupied by the Civil Engineers who are just waiting for the day when House Ec. and Dairying are moved and they have the whole building to themselves.

The artists of the frying pan took over the second floor in 1920 and now occupy its western end. The western half of the first floor was originally the staff garage but now is occupied by the Dairy Department, the Agriculture library and a quick-freezing unit.

The Engineers aren't the only ones who enjoy informality—the Ag. Library too, is noted for its congenial atmosphere. Whispering and tip-toeing are not required and comfortable high-backed chairs are provided for afternoon napping.

north lab

The North Lab. is known for housing the Faculty of Agriculture with its Departments of Soils, Animal Science, Agriculture Engineering and Plant Science, and the offices of the professors of these departments. The Alberta Research Council occupies the eastern end of the second floor where it carries out its research program. As in most University buildings, here we find another branch of the Faculty of Applied Science—the Mining Engineers.

The least interesting aspect of genetics

Built in 1918 as a temporary building, the North Lab. is a mate to the South Lab. It contains many laboratories, some used by students for class work, some used for analysis in soils and plant science and still others which are used for research projects.

university farm

To teach agriculture without a farm and stock would be like teaching chemistry without chemicals. At the farm, Agriculture students learn to differentiate between straw and hay, cows and horses and some of the braver ones learn how to milk cows.

The six hundred-acre farm owned by the University, has most of its land devoted to pasture, hay and silage. On coming up the driveway you see the houses of the permanent staff. A little further on are the barns, paddocks and the live stock pavillion. Past these is an elevator with a capacity of forty thousand bushels.

CUTE, ISN'T HE!

Since 1918 an extensive stock breeding and feeding program has been carried on and experiments are being conducted on sheep, horses, swine and cattle.

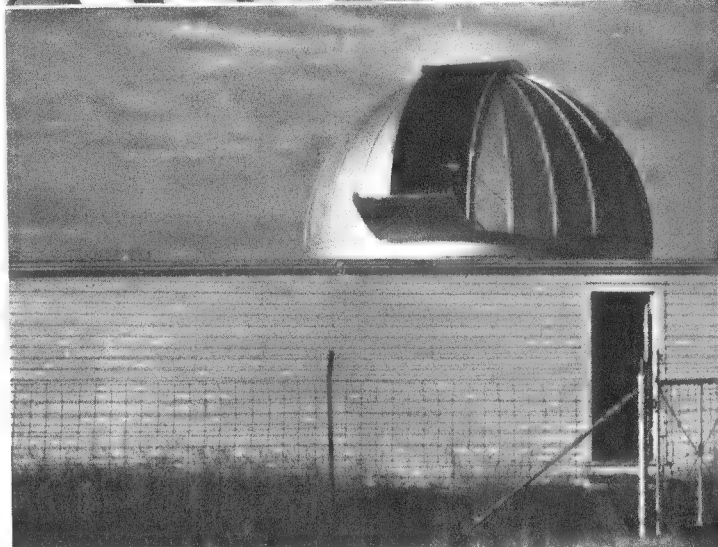

The aim of the farm is to graduate students who know the best methods and equipment for farming.

observatory

The University of Alberta observatory was officially opened May 20, 1943. It was built to house a 12.5-inch telescope, presented to the University by Mr. Cyril Wates, one-time president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

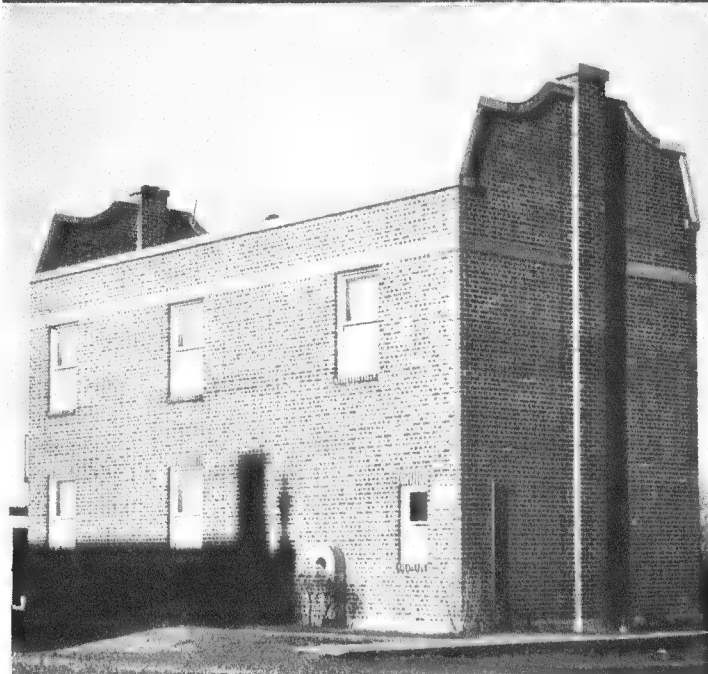

The building is of frame construction, twenty feet by thirty-two feet, and the telescope is housed in a sixteen-foot dome at the north end. The dome is a duplicate of that built by the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, New York. In the south end there are three piers for other instruments. The east one carries a small transit telescope, the centre one a four-inch refractor and the west one a two-inch zenith telescope.

The observatory is the one spot on the campus where star gazing is official.

gas lab

The Gas Lab. was built in 1942 by the Provincial Government. During the war, tests were made on all aviation gasoline used by the R.C.A.F. in Western Canada. At the present time the Lab. is establishing standard specifications for petroleum products under supervision of the Alberta Research Council.

education

So This Is How Education Students Work!

Built in 1929, the Education Building was formerly known as the Alberta Normal School. When the Faculty of Education took over teacher training in 1945 the building took its place as one of the nicest on the campus. Interior work is still being done to complete the wings.

This building was another war casualty. For three years it served as headquarters for No. 4 I.T.S. of the R.C.A.F.

Now it houses the University Public and High Schools, whose pupils are subjected to the student teachers in Education. Since all Education classes are held here it is the first faculty with an entire building to itself. There is a gym and a separate auditorium with a projection room for movies. Education parties are often held in the gym and refreshments are served in the basement cafeteria which also caters to hungry students during the day.

The building is situated on the southern edge of the campus, and is a brisk ten-minute walk from Arts—just ask any Education student.

st. joseph's college

Financially aided by the Carnegie Foundation of New York, the Roman Catholic people of Alberta built St. Joseph's College in 1926. Since 1927, these same halls have been in the process of destruction by impressive freshmen initiations, hall rugby, rough-housing and memorable water fights. At first St. Joe's housed about forty students, but this soon increased. During the war the Navy took over, and the population went up to two hundred and twenty. Now back to peace-time operation again, this residence is the home for about one hundred and fifty men students.

St. Joe's is also the headquarters for Miss McCulla and her busy fifth year nurses. The Newman Club rooms are in the basement and have been the scene of many meetings and social functions. The pride of the college is its chapel where the Roman Catholic students may pause to worship.

THE IRISH AT PLAY

The gym will be remembered as the scene of vigorous boxing workouts by the Varsity Boxing Club. The best known feature of St. Joe's is Little Tuck, where chemists can always be found discussing labs and cooking up results. Usually the piano or juke-box is going, giving an atmosphere of friendly informality.

st. stephen's college

Forty-four years ago Edmonton saw the Methodist Alberta College organized. Presbyterians established Robertson College seven years later. In 1925, with the union of the churches, these colleges became affiliated with our University under the name of St. Stephen's College. Since then the turreted dormitory has seen much. Until the new Nurses' Residence is completed, the probies will continue to keep things humming in the south wing while eighty or so "Stevadores" nobly strive to uphold the traditions of good old St. Steve's as the nurses' neighbors to the north.

ST. STEVE'S CHAPEL

Often have the walls of the auditorium echoed with good fellowship. The library has proved a valuable retreat for those who chose to seek further knowledge and inspiration in the theological field. To many students, their favorite St. Steve's haunt is its quiet little chapel. Cherished memories of daily morning chapel service will linger long in the hearts of those who there started the day in fellowship with God and man.

The Christmas Party!

Athabasca Hall has the honor of being the first building completed on this campus. It was built in 1910 to house the entire University. In 1914-15, after the completion of the Arts Building, the library, laboratories, lecture rooms and offices were converted into bedrooms and Athabasca Hall became the men's residence. Except for a four-year break when the building was occupied by the R.C.A.F., it has continued in this role.

Every year the large dining room is decked in gay Christmas colors to become the scene of the inter-residence Christmas banquet and dance. This is one of the most popular residence affairs as the good attendance and number of gate-crashers show.

Opening off the dining room is a spacious lounge, complete with a fire-place and red-leather chairs. Here, many rousing and enthusiastic sing-songs are held around the hard-worked piano. The gym, behind the dining room, is used for basketball, volleyball and women's physical training.

Until such time as the proposed Student's Union building is finished, the Students' Union, S.C.M., Evergreen and Gold, Alarm, and Gateway offices will continue to occupy the basement.

pembina

Pembina which was opened in 1914, housed the nurses in the south wing, and the first Medical school in the north wing. It served as an emergency hospital during the 'flu epidemic in 1918, and the next year the entire building became the women's residence. As evidence of its service in this last war, a large propellor hangs in the main rotunda with a plaque that announces to the world that Pembina was "Officers' Mess, No. 4, I.T.S."

The Hen Party—the Female Bull Session

Signing in for the deadline has made the one hundred and fifty girls adept at running the "Pembina Handicap." Starting every night at eleven twenty-nine the girls grab their latest flames and start down the home stretch to Pembina. It's amazing how fast the boys have learned to run, but it is hard on the uninitiated.

Life in Pembina continues on through telephone duty, cramming, pyjama parties and a shortage of late leaves.

assiniboia

JUST AN INNOCENT GAME

In 1916 the building was used as barracks for the 196th battalion. Three years later the entire building was converted into students' rooms. Another military interruption occurred in 1941 when the R.C.A.F. took over and occupied Assiniboia for four years.

Today the rooms and corridors again echo with the fun and laughter of Varsity men who spend seven months of every year there in bull sessions, card games and the occasional night of cramming.

Coming into being a year after Athabasca, Assiniboia used to have professors' suites on second and third floors with the President's and Registrar's offices in the front hall. The present men's lounge has been the scene of much activity. It was the original Wauneita room and that tribe organized its first pow-wows and hunting expeditions there. We wonder whether the walls vibrated more then than now and who is most to blame for the cracked plaster!

The Infirmary, founded by Dr. MacEachern while he was Provost, has fifteen beds and two isolation wards.

Since May, 1942, numerous nicks and scratches, aches and pains have been fixed here, and absence cards and swimming certificates have been obtained.

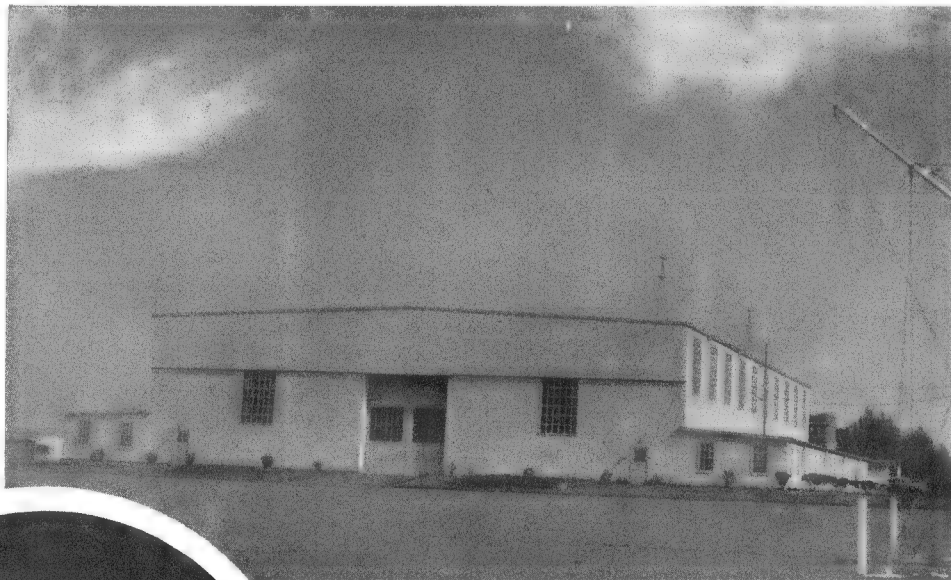

cafeteria

In '42-'43 six girls staffed the new cafeteria which fed three hundred students. Designed by Dr. Morrison, it was built with the assistance of student engineers. The staff has now grown to thirty, the customers to two thousand and the line-up half way to the Infirmary.

drill hall

The Drill Hall is the athletic centre of the University. Here you find the P.T. offices, daily P.T. classes, Interfac and Senior basketball and badminton. New collapsible bleachers have been installed for spectators.

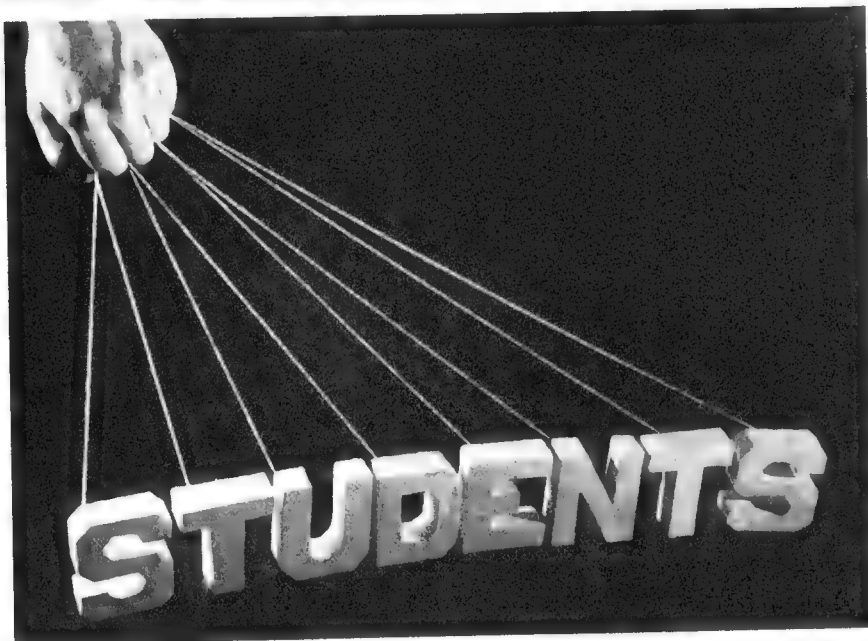

House Dances and some formals are held in the Drill Hall which is decorated for the occasion.

During the war the Covered Rink acted as headquarters for the C.O.T.C. but now it is the scene of Interfac and Senior hockey games and numerous hockey practices. Twice a week there is free student skating. As at other rinks, there is a snack bar which is operated for the convenience of the students.

As president of the Students' Union I wish to record my sincere appreciation of the fine co-operation displayed by students and faculty in supporting all undertakings initiated this year by the Students' Council. We have endeavored to administer student affairs efficiently, being ever mindful of present needs and of those of future student bodies. Of particular significance is the inauguration of plans to construct a Students' Union Building. Working on the foundations laid by Student Councils of former years, we have pursued the policy of making secure the financial arrangements of the project. Due to shortages of material and labour we are unable to start construction immediately. We charge the students of future years, who thumb these pages, with the responsibility of pursuing our endeavours. It is a trust which we ask you to earnestly and vigorously pursue. To the students of the 1946-47 University session, I express the deepest respect and admiration of the foresight shown in committing yourselves and future student bodies to so noble a purpose.

I would like to thank the Student Body for their loyal support during my term of office. The vitality, enthusiasm and co-operation displayed in all departments of student activity enables me to say most sincerely, "It has been a pleasure to be of service to you".

The Students' Council, the executive committee of the Students' Union, consists of twenty members elected annually in March. The President of the Students' Union is chairman of the Council and his executive is composed of the Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and representatives of all campus organizations.

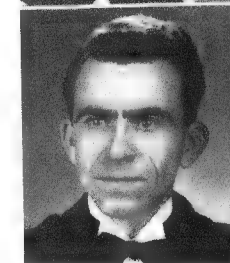

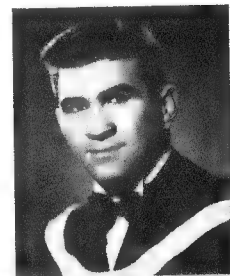

The Students' Council, guided by a comprehensive constitution, sets Students' Union policy and is responsible for the collection and disbursement of all Union funds. The Council is responsible for student discipline; it deals with violations of the constitution, and controls all Students' Union social and literary activities.

One of the clubs which goes to make up the Students' Union is the Literary Association which is responsible to the Council for all literary and musical activities. The Wauneita Society also functions as an independent unit, but is represented on the Council and responsible to it.

Athletics, now organized under the University Athletic Board, a student-faculty committee, is financed by a University athletic fee. The student members of U.A.B. are ex-officio members of the Students' Council.

Once or twice a year a general Students' Union meeting is held. Here the assembled students hear the budget presented and are allowed to give their views on any phase of council work.

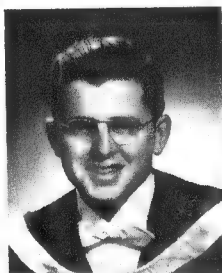

Briefly, the Students' Union is a miniature model of a democratic state in which the Students' Council represents the government.

In September the Nurses' Students' Union commenced activities under an exceptionally energetic executive. Students turned out en masse one night each month to attend these Union meetings. When complaints were voiced, attempts were made to remedy them. Supporting and participating in University activities was encouraged. A substantial contribution was made to the War Memorial Fund and a topnotch basketball team challenged and occasionally defeated other Faculty groups.

One social activity was planned per month and included a wide variety of successful entertainments for which the nurses are famed.

In addition to Union business and entertainment, the enthusiastic executive organized two new Nurses' clubs. The Arts and Crafts Club which met weekly gave instruction in leathercraft, woodcarving, painting and photography. The thirty members of the Nurses' Choir were able to give several very successful public performances.

As time goes by and souvenirs of Varsity are tucked farther back into the attic of our memories, the Wauneitas will look back on an outstanding year, full of happy events, among them:

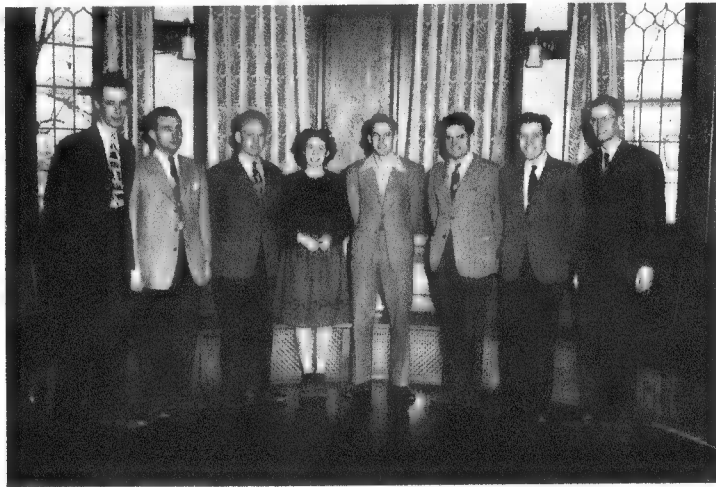

- the thrills of Freshman Introduction Week
- a cup of coffee and a quiet chat breaking the rush of registration
- hot mustard and stinging smoke choking off the harmony highlights of our hike
- dancing firelight and throbbing tom-toms setting the scene for a solemn ritual
- the first formal, a feminine affair where freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors forgot the dignity of their years in the flurry, excitement, and anxiety over long dresses and corsages for the men
- the relief which came with the appearance of the phone book just before Waw-waw
- the gay and novel spring fever exhibited by election campaigning.

“Payuk uche kukeyow, kukeyow uche payuk” will always mean “Each for all and all for each”, and for us it will mean all these things as well.

literary society

The Literary Society consists of the Drama Society, Make-up Club, Light and Sound Crew, Debating Club, Public Speaking Club, International Relations Club, and the Political Science Club.

The objects of these clubs are varied and extensive for they give valuable instruction and experience to students who, in future, may play leading roles in public life. Extra-curricular opportunities are made available for studying the problems and possibilities of modern economy.

Two students are elected each spring from the combined membership body as representatives to the Students' Council. Their duties include: drawing up the budget of the Society, presenting such problems as may require the recommendation of the Council, voting on Council business, and awarding the Literary pins and rings at the end of each year.

musical society

The Musical Association is composed of students interested in musical activities. The Executive Board consisted this year of the President, Gordon Clark, and Secretary, Betty Williamson. In addition, there were: President of the Mixed Chorus, Bill Simpson; President of the Symphony Orchestra, Ted Lindscoog; President of the Musical Club, Norris Bertrand, and the Provost.

The Board co-ordinates the work of the three musical groups for efficient management, and supervises activities so that a maximum number of students may find some field in which to satisfy their individual interests in music.

This year, the Board undertook the handling of its own financial affairs, thus greatly increasing the scope of the organization. The result has been a highly interesting and successful year for all participants of musical activities on the campus.

students' union secretaries

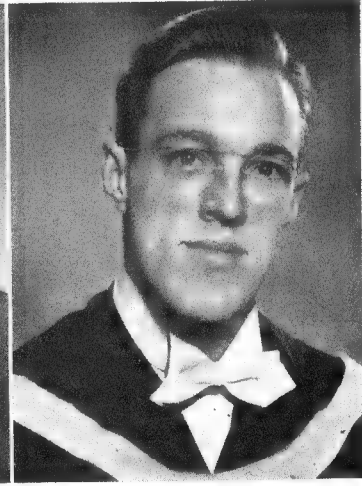

After many years of discussion, the Students' Union now has two permanent staff members to establish and maintain continuity in business matters from year to year. Thus they avoid the annual confusion that results when a new executive takes over.

Mrs. Morgan, Students' Union stenographer and receptionist was the first of the permanent staff. For over a year now she has brightened the Students' Union office with her ready smile and quick wit.

Filling another important post is serious, business-minded Archie Campbell, a graduate of this University. He is the permanent Secretary-Accountant of the Students' Union and also acts as right-hand man to the Union President.

It is a standing committee for the enforcement of regulations affecting women students. The powers, including fining and dismissing of a student from office, and the procedure to be followed, are set forth at great length in the constitution.

Although times have changed and women are no longer fined for speaking to men in the corridors, the need for the committee is not lost. In contrast to other campus organizations the less work it does, the better the year the committee has.

Employment

From a nucleus of thirty-seven ex-service students in 1944, CURMA's membership had expanded to over fifteen hundred by September, 1946. Because of the excellent groundwork laid by past members, this year's executive took over a smoothly-running organization. The problems of the student veteran have steadily increased. CURMA has acted as a "trouble-shooter" for the veterans, to the benefit of the student body and the University.

Once again, CURMA's main task has been the finding of accommodation for veterans; however the situation has been improved due to the active co-operation between CURMA, the Government and the University authorities. Other problems such as loans, employment and entertainment have been solved successfully.

The transition of sword into pen has not been an easy one but CURMA has led the way.

athletic board

Created by union of the Men's Athletic Board, Women's Athletic Board and the Physical Education Department, the University Athletic Board integrates the administration of all sports-promoting organizations on the campus. This five-membered cabinet consists of the Professor of Physical Education, the President of Men's Athletics, the President of Women's Athletics, a third student member and the Provost.

The University Athletic Board increased inter-collegiate and intra-mural competition, financed a record equipment budget, and improved coaching. The Board also formulated its own constitution, remodelled the award system, gave material support to the building drive and hurdled numerous routine obstacles that turn up in a formative period. If expansion, consolidation, and a year full of activity are the standards of success, then the University Athletic Board lived a banner year.

The Rink Committee is an organization formed on an agreement between the University and the Students' Union to facilitate use of the covered rink. It is a policy-making organization with control of personnel and is responsible for the care of the building and equipment.

Though the rink is to be used for student affairs as much as possible, it must attempt to pay for itself. This explains why student skating was limited to two nights a week.

Since the committee is purely policy-forming, Archie Campbell takes care of the personnel and rink schedules. A full-time manager is hired by the committee to take care of the rink.

The addition of Richie Hughes to the P.E. department staff and the competent coaching of Maury Van Vliet has injected into sports more of the progressive spirit than U. of A. has felt for a long time.

women's athletic association

The Women's Athletic Association guided women students into unsurpassed interco'legiate competition this year.

The sport season began with golf and tennis tournaments in Winnipeg, and a Track and Field meet in Saskatoon. In February when the Alberta Pandas were hostesses to Manitoba and Saskatchewan, they made an honest but unsuccessful attempt to retain the Cecil E. Race Trophy for basketball. Indicative of the increase in women's sports is the curling bonspiel held in Saskatchewan in which the Green and Gold won top honors. Among other inter-varsity competitions were fencing, badminton, and swimming.

In spite of crowded facilities, enthusiastic amateurs made inter-faculty competition keen in track, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton and swimming.

The Pan-Hellenic Association is an organization which consists of representatives of the four girls' fraternities on the campus. During the years in which it has been in existence, "Panhell" has made every effort to promote a spirit of friendliness and co-operation among the girls, and between the fraternities and the University.

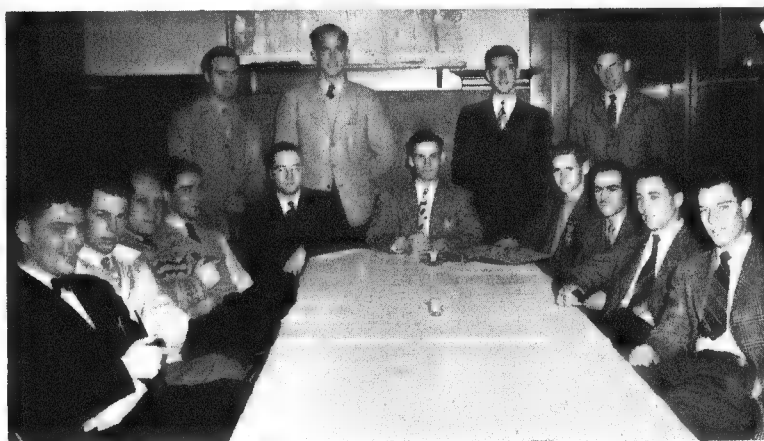

The main purpose of Pan-Hellenic is to decide upon policies affecting the fraternities as a whole, to determine rushing regulations and to aid in campus affairs.

The activities of Pan-Hellenic for the 1946-47 session included a tea for the freshettes, held in the University Cafeteria early in December and the Annual Banquet at the Macdonald on January 23rd. Each fraternity contributed to the cost of a radio which was presented to the Infirmary, and the association, in co-operation with the Inter-Fraternity Council, raised a sizable donation for the University Scholarship Fund and the Students' Union Building Fund.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is a coordinating body for the eight men's fraternities on the campus. Its prime purpose is to act as a liaison body between the University Senate and the fraternities. It links the fraternities together so they may be of greater use to the University.

The Inter-Fraternity Council aided in the drives on the campus and also in entertaining the visiting teams. Working in conjunction with the Pan-Hellenic Association and the Spirit Club, they held a dance in the Drill Hall to raise money for the new Students' Union Building.

BOB THOMPSON

With over 1300 students in the Soph. class, a good part of them vets, this year's class will go on record as the largest Soph. class in U. of A. history.

The class went all out in presenting its colorful "Night in Paradise". It was a function thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and it is hoped that it will set the precedent for the return of spirited and impressive class formals.

HONORARY PRESIDENT

Despite the difficulties arising from the present reconversion the Junior Class has had a very successful year.

The inter-year play was up to a very high standard and had the distinction of being the best-directed play.

Our Prom was the social event of the season and the class turned out in force. We owe special thanks to the Engineering and House Ec. classes for the decorating of the Drill Hall.

Our honorary president, Prof. I. F. Morrison was ever available to offer his advice and help us with any problems.

history . . . class of '47

We, the class of '47, began our university careers over a wide period of time. Quite a few of us started out with the green and gold "freshie" buttons in 1943. The paper sox of '44 set others of us on the way. But for many the history of class '47 began way back when the war was in its black infancy. The date does not matter. We began as freshmen—that was common to all of us. We all wore the beanies or the buttons or some other conspicuous label of our low estate.

The gay whirl of Freshman Introduction Week convinced us that Varsity was a wonderful place. True, our lectures and assignments interfered somewhat with our education, but we thought that the situation would improve as we learned to "cut" classes with the easy casualness of the upperclassmen. Then came the "Novembers", and the "Christmasses", and the realization that the university, particularly in war-time, demanded a great deal of its students. So, for the rest of the year we did our best to make our eight o'clocks along with the marching platoons of Number Two Army Course. We still found time for coffee at the newly-built cafeteria, and we still made our dates for Tuck.

By the time of our sophomore year we had grown quite accustomed to seeing the boys attending classes in uniform; and the girls parading under the paternal guidance of Major Owen no longer rated a whistle, even from the boys of St. Steve's and St. Joe's. We were upper-classmen now, and having struggled successfully through one set of finals we threw ourselves wholeheartedly into the business of finding dates for the Wauneita, and Waw-Waw, and especially for our own big dance, the Froph. That was the year when the Choir Concert made its debut and the campus went modern with the Varsity Show. That was the year too, when after an absence of eleven years, the McGoun Cup for debating found its way back to our trophy shelf, and our Golden Bears for the first time since 1928 won the coveted Dr. Hardy Trophy for football. That was a busy year—one which ended on a brighter note, for peace was not far off.

With the Allied victory over Germany and Japan, our university underwent a transformation. As Juniors we watched spirit come back to the campus with the return of our men from the battlefronts. Uniforms vanished. The hall where we had paraded was reconverted into the Varsity Rink, and the "Drill Shed" became the centre, not only for the final exams, but for the house dances and even for our formals. Pembina, Athabaska and Assiniboia rejoined the campus, and we spread out to encompass the large Education Building. January saw the start of a new class, and the girls for the first time in many years found themselves pleasantly outnumbered. It was early in '46 that our engineers in a tremendous burst of the old spirit raided Pembina, and Club 400 played its part in raising funds for World Student Relief.

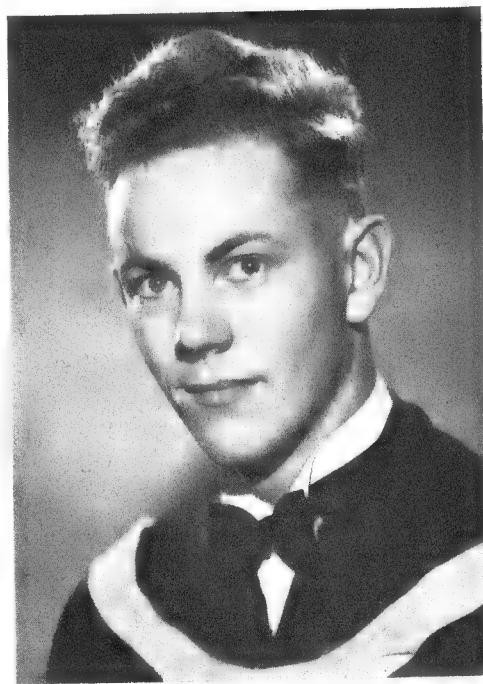

Then came our senior year. What shall we say about 1946-47? This has been the biggest year in the history of our University. With 4200 students, our activities have been almost limitless. After the lively snakeline and the football parade through downtown Edmonton, no one can accuse us of lacking spirit. Our sports, right down to curling and fencing went intervarsity. The Gateway again became a semi-weekly publication and the Alarm, our most recent printed project, brought us the Varsity news at eight o'clock every morning. Intervarsity drama on a non-competitive basis entered its second successful year with production being staged at Vancouver. A symphony orchestra gained recognition and the ballet club's presentation amazed us. The Mixed Chorus was so popular that it completed two full concert tours. Instead of supporting the Major War Drives of previous years we turned our attention to the project of raising funds for a new Students' Union Building. We have watched our university expand in other fields. The Col. Mewburn pavillion, the quonset huts, the new Nurses' Residence, the Provincial Lab, are familiar to all of us. The construction on the Med Building was brought forcibly to our attention as we wrote our finals to the tune of rivering machines.

Yes, this has been a tremendous year, socially, athletically and academically. It is a good point at which to end our university careers for we leave on an inspiring high note. With mixed feelings we, the class of '47, close this chapter in the annals of the history of the University of Alberta and take leave of her halls, proud of the imposing trail of accomplishments which we have left behind us.

Muriel Buchanan

valedictory . . . class of '47

Graduation is many things. It is a time for joy and celebration; it is a time for pomp and ceremony. It is a time for quiet reflection and happy smiles as we recall the past few years of our lives; it is a time for serious thought about the future. For many it may seem to be the achievement of a goal. Let me suggest though, that graduation, by itself, can never be a final goal. Regardless of the pattern of our future life the real goal is the application of our knowledge—our talents, to that ever-changing picture.

JOHN RANDLE, B.Sc.

Learning does not end with graduation: It is only beginning. Up until this time we have merely been taught how to learn. Our thoughts have been directed towards a study of our particular course. Now, along with the thousands of graduates of this and other years, it is our opportunity to help place Canada among the world's best educated and most enlightened nations.

Some few from this "Class of '47" fought with the forces of freedom during the recent world conflict for "whatsoever things are just." Many more of us were privileged to continue in our pursuit of "whatsoever things are true." We are now joined together in an even greater battle, an even greater search—the battle of the forces of good, of justice and of equality against those of evil, of distrust, of hate and of prejudice—the search for everlasting peace.

In order to win this fight and to persist in this search the great men and women of the world are presently engaging their minds. It has been said that "There is no defence save stupidity against the impact of a new idea." Peace is not a new idea, but it is a new peace that we are seeking . . . a peace that is all-inclusive, a peace that will extend to all peoples and a peace that must come from all peoples. Like a spade though, this peace will work only if there is someone there to work it.

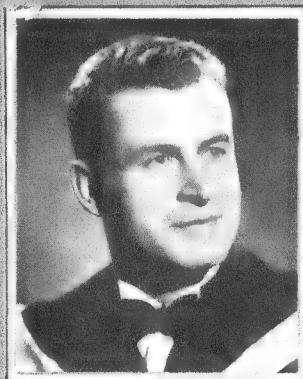

Within the week there will be some six thousand students who, even as we, will be leaving the shelter of a Canadian University to take their places in modern civilization. We have all been given the opportunity to learn how to use our minds. It is now the duty of each of us, in our own line of endeavor, to strive whole-heartedly to put this wealth of knowledge to the common good. Ours are the tools . . . the job stands before us.

With "Memories of U" in the background, we, the Senior Class of '47 look forward to the challenge which this post-war world presents.

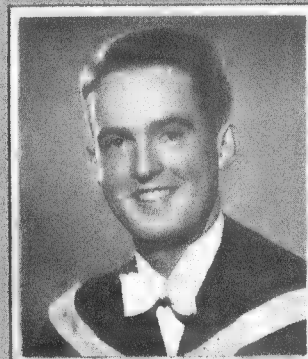

Seniors, in spite of concentrated study, have played an outstanding part in sports, dramatics, and all campus activities in this stellar year of Varsity life. It is a year which will long be remembered and cherished in the memories of all.

With thanks to dear old "Alberta" we leave the halls of learning with a tolerant outlook and a determination to be a credit to our "Alma Mater".

Eric C. Ansley
GENERAL SECRETARY-TREASURER
Edmonton, Alberta

May 14, 1947.

Faculty and Students,
University of Alberta,
Edmonton, Alberta.

On behalf of The Alberta Teachers' Association we are pleased to take this opportunity of extending best wishes to the faculty and students of the University of Alberta.

The members of the A.T.A. have always been keenly interested in the University, and in the progress and welfare of its students. Each year, hundreds of young people whom we taught in our high schools enter the various faculties of the University, and our interest in these young men and women does not cease when they leave our classes. To all those who have gone on to enrich their education and training, and especially to the graduates in the Class of '47, we join in expressing our congratulations on their achievements.

We also desire to extend a special greeting to the students and graduates of the Faculty of Education who will soon be co-workers of ours in the schools of Alberta.

Sincerely yours,

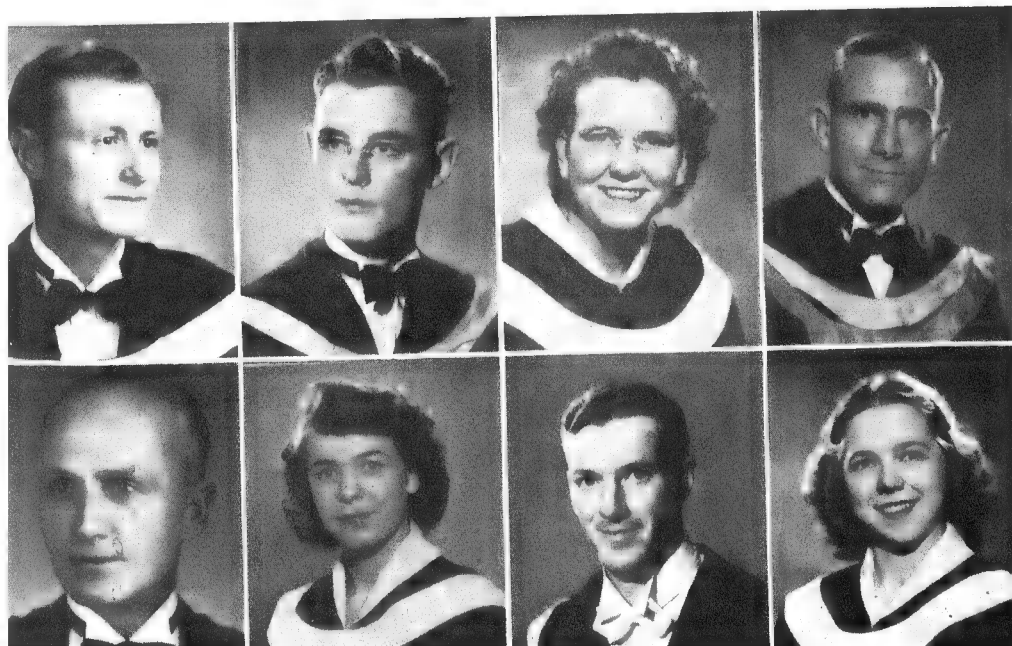

ALBERTA TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

DR. H. E. SMITH

Director of the Summer Session

the director's message

Clear thinking has seldom in our country's history been more in demand than at present. And fortunately at no time have opportunities been so generously provided to this end. Happy indeed are those who can avail themselves of these rich provisions.

If clear thinking, in addition to natural ability demands both incentive and a background of experience, then our present generation of students should meet all requirements. Teachers frozen to war-time jobs, no less than returned personnel, have the knowledge of people and of human affairs which only experience yields. To these must be added the incentive of an appreciation at first hand of great and urgent problems both at home and abroad.

But said one, "Students in the summer session aim only at securing their credits as quickly as possible and being quit of a tiresome job." He explained that most students come from a heavy year's work and are tired both physically and mentally. In a sense this may be true but he failed to realize that there is no cure for fatigue so effective as new interests and challenging ideas.

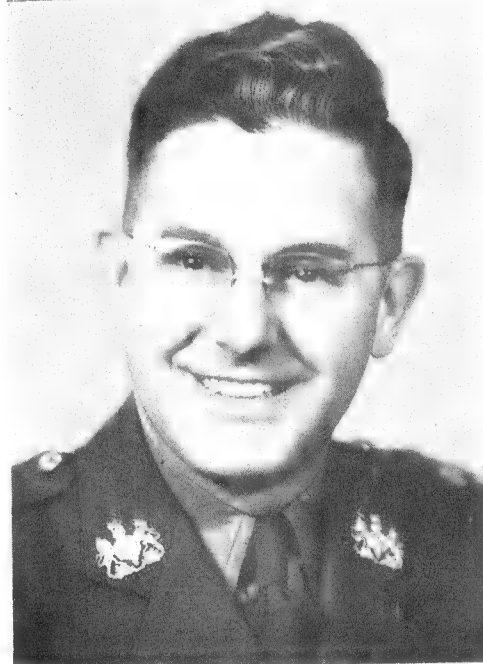

The administration labors to provide worthwhile courses and wise instructors. It naturally expects students to secure credits for their immediate purposes, but it sincerely hopes that students will go far beyond this achievement to a broader and clearer understanding of their world. The University encourages discussion of anything between heaven and earth. Student life is not student life at all unless issues of all sorts are freely expounded and debated. The words of Terence are to the point: "All that is human must enter into education that is humanistic and liberal."

The Summer Session through its instructors, its libraries, and the opportunities it provides for the interchange of ideas, wishes its students—society's potential leaders—to leave refreshed and recreated both in body and mind.

Fastball Champions in Ladies' and Men's Leagues

Bowling enthusiasts showed their skill every Wednesday evening. Beth Borgan and Doris Brown made the highest scores for the season.

The tennis courts were in constant use for either tournament or practice games. The summer session cooperated with the January Class in the maintenance of the courts. Margaret Slip was ladies' champion in singles and Lilly Berg and Peggy Fisher in doubles.

Swimming was arranged at reduced rates by the Students' Council.

Members of the January Class were permitted to buy summer student cards entitling them to participate in all summer session activities.

Champions and All-Star players received crests at the final dance of the session.

summer school

Fastball proved the most popular of summer sports for both men and women. Women's honors were won by Dora Dart and her team: Hazel Parks, Alberta Parks, Connie Hoskyn, Therese Padberg, Netta Ford, Pat Doolan, Helen Succa, Evelyn Reiger, H. Slivinski, Frances Holden, Leona Golembiosky, and Peggy Fisher. Women's All-Star Team included such outstanding players as Joan Hamilton, Dora Hart, Netta Ford, Kay Henderson, Connie Hoskyn, Bertha Matheson, Hazel Parks, Joyce Kulak, Rose Stepa and A. Anthony.

The Drama Classes, ever-increasing in popularity, presented their Festival of One-Act Plays in August, under the supervision of Eugene C. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, Betty Mitchell of Calgary, and Doris Sheppard of Edmonton. The plays presented were: The Flattering Word by George Kelly, directed by Ernest Radke; Ile, by Eugene O'Neill, directed by Edna Morris; When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet, by Charles George, directed by Helen Kosier; The Last of the Low-ries, by Paul Green, directed by Henry Ward; A Young Man's Fancy by Hilda Manning, directed by Ernest Stauffer, and The Lovely Miracle, by Philip Johnson, directed by Doris Berry.

Folk dancing was enjoyed by many every Monday evening in the Education Gymnasium under the able supervision of Jean Forster of Toronto.

Picnic in the Woods

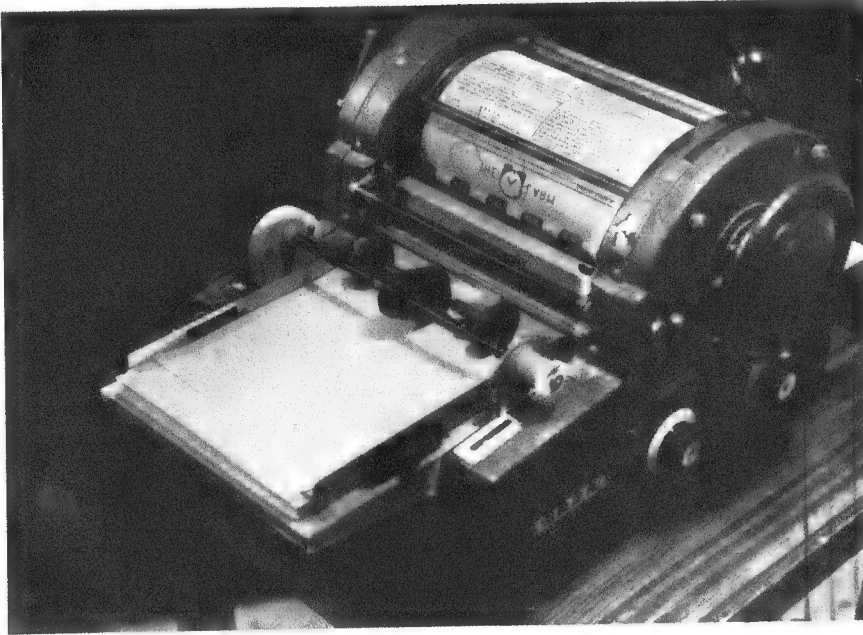

Summer students danced to the music of Frank McCleavy's Orchestra on Tuesday nights in the Education Gymnasium and on Friday nights in the spacious Drill Hall. Women rejoiced at the increased male attendance this year. The social activities for the summer ended with a semi formal ball.

Henry Repp deserves much credit for arranging the full program of social activities, including dances, lectures on current topics, sing-songs, "get-acquainted" teas, picnics, and the Amateur Variety Program.

Twelve hundred copies of the Summer Session Bulletin were mimeographed daily and eagerly read. They contained news and notices as edited by John Brown.

evergreen & gold

Four thousand students, a completely baffling system of classification in the Faculty of Education, innumerable clubs, a great increase in sports activities, a skeptical printer, a pessimistic engraver, and a shortage of paper . . . these are but a few of the problems which faced the 1947 E. & G. Our objective was to get the book out by Christmas . . . 1950. If, by chance, the book comes out in 1947, it will be thanks primarily to the continued hard work of the editorial board—Muriel, Chuck, and Bill—throughout the year.

This volume represents the work of so many students that it is difficult to give all of them the credit they deserve. Dave Shouldice and Alex Harper tried out many new ideas, aided in their execution by Grant Dunsmore and "the gals." Murray Stewart carried on a friendly rivalry with Iris Thorogood over the best sport pictures of the Camera Club, a much-needed organization founded by hard-working Chuck Yackulic. An army of gremlins eventually got most of the students straightened out into their proper years and faculties, after many demoralizing mixups. The resulting collection of pages was given coherence by the art staff under the direction of Elva Pearson, who did much to animate the pages with her cartooned Golden Bears. Bob Willis not only designed the cover but also made the plaster cast from which it was moulded. Bill Esdale kept the proof-reading staff busy, also pinch-hitting in other jobs when needed. Merv Devonshire had his hands full managing the financial affairs so that the books would balance in the end and not show a deficit. The finances were helped along by the advertising staff, which showed very good results in spite of our increased price for ads.

Throughout the year we have had one main objective—to have the yearbook designed as much as possible by our own staff. This year we have just made the first step. Many layouts and most of the art-work and designing have been done by students, instead of by professionals as in the past. The cover was designed and cast by a student. The end-papers were drawn by a student. Campus photography was done by students, as well as most of the dark-room work; the results, as you see, have been very gratifying. All this will eventually result in a substantial saving to the student body, but will have another more important purpose in providing invaluable experience for those who have the spirit to take advantage of it. We hope that in the very near future we shall see all of the work on the E. & G. done by those who will benefit most from it—the students.

Backed by one "U.S. Camera" and a couple of enthusiasts the Evergreen and Gold and Gateway officials adopted the idea of having all the pictures for the publications taken by a staff of student photographers instead of being dependent upon professionals.

The results were depressing at first, but by Christmas our flash cameras had moved in successfully on every campus activity. Shortly before Christmas the photography staff, inspired by Chuck Yackulic, formed itself into the Camera Club. By now this group boasts a well-equipped dark room in the basement lounge of Athabasca Hall.

This new plan has given our members valuable experience in press photography, and has given the publications the best picture coverage in its history. The most consistent member of the photography staff was probably Bill Haynes, making every shot count, whether it was a building shot or a portrait. Jack Fair and Bruce Hatfield teamed up to give an excellent coverage of the club and fraternity sections. Bob Cook, Bill McLaggan, Gordon Hargreaves, and George Fong doubled in photography and in darkroom work. The few enthusiasts who started the project have laid a solid foundation in amateur photography for the future benefit of the publications.

GREG FULTON, DICK BEDDOES and Steno.

The Gateway resumed publication on a bi-weekly basis for the first time since 1942. Day Editors Jim Woods and Archie Greenaway ably directed operations on the Tuesday and Friday editions, and were of inestimable value in making the change-over possible.

Jack Day and "Handlebars" Murray guided an inexperienced news staff, but many newcomers including Kay Cruikshank, Bruce Powe, Finlay MacKenzie, George Clark and Ernie Halton showed outstanding promise in the writing field.

With the help of Assistant Editor Greg Fulton, Maestro Dick Beddoes called the tune in the sports world, and proved to be a radio announcer of no mean repute.

Features took a panning from Gateway readers, but after a slow start they improved with succeeding issues. Editor Jack Beaton had a tough job handling the features pages of both issues on his own hook.

An unexpected contribution to the paper was the fine letter column built up by readers with ideas of their own.

Looks like a good year ahead

IN APPRECIATION

As The Gateway grows its

[illegible]

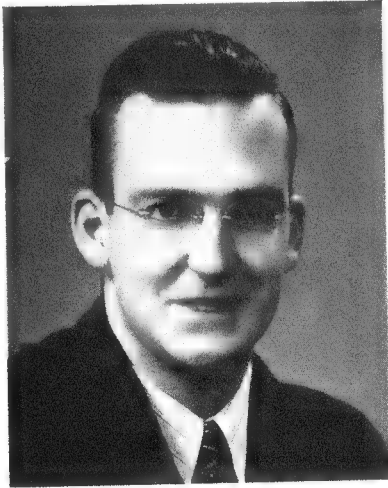

Due to the large increase in the number of students this year many difficulties cropped up to delay the Telephone Directory's appearance on the campus. To ensure its early publication many students loyally volunteered several evenings to typing the four thousand names and phone numbers. With this help the Directory was distributed at the end of October.

Besides the telephone numbers and addresses of all the registered students, the book also contains the phone numbers of Students' Union officials, club presidents, fraternities, graduates, advertisers and the University offices.

The Directory this year was edited by Bill Lindsay, with Neville Lindsay acting as Business Manager. The executive included Bill Falk, Chuck Yackulic, Adam Waldie, and Celia Cockeram.

All University students receive this book free of charge, the cost being met by sale of advertising and Union subsidy.

Director

radio directorate

The Radio Directorate expanded greatly in 1946-47, having presented eighty-two programs during the year over Radio Station CKUA. Broadcasts of Gateway News and Varsity Sports News, and a news feature, Varsity Varieties kept listeners informed on campus affairs.

In addition special programs have been presented direct from the campus. A new line was installed from the Drill Hall to carry broadcasts of Varsity basketball, with Dick Beddoes and Greg Fulton at the microphone.

The staff of the Radio Directorate included: Chairman Guy Beaudry, Alta Mitchell, Bill Love, Gerry LePage and Dick Beddoes. Additional announcers were: John Harvey, Myrtle Baxter, Inex D'Appolonia, Greg Fulton and Phyllis Voisin.

Last February, the student radio representatives of the four western Universities met at Saskatoon, and the Western University Radio Federation was formed for the purpose of organizing exchange broadcasts between these universities.

The Radio Directorate has extensive plans for next year. Through the Western University Radio Federation, it is hoped that broadcasts will be carried over the C.B.C. and that the construction of radio studios on the campus will be started by the University.

Outstanding programs of the year included: an interview with the two Alberta representatives at the Western University Beauty Contest in Vancouver; a broadcast of the opening of the Student Mock Parliament; the Engineers' and Arts and Science Balls; the important basketball games; the University Symphony Orchestra directed by Ted Lindskoog; the E.U.S. Broadcast from the Education Building; the Newman Club Mixed Choir, directed by Peter Bakaj; and the L.D.S. Club Broadcast.

An entirely new publication on the campus this year, THE ALARM, had its meagre beginning as an endeavour of the Students' Council. The purpose of this mimeographed daily sheet was to keep the students informed of coming drives, elections and socials. In its sixty-odd editions during the year the students, as well as the staff, have felt only too well its growing pains but this paper has great possibilities and it is to be hoped that next year it will mature into an indispensable publication on the campus. This dynamic little paper has filled a growing place for much-needed advertising on the campus.

From a small office next to that of the Gateway in the basement of Athabasca Hall came the many little sheets each morning at eight o'clock to tell students that the score in the game last night was twenty-to-nothing for Alberta, or to be sure to vote in the elections today, or that there is a meeting of your club tonight at 7:00 p.m.

The energetic staff of over forty people have donated much of their time and effort to make this paper successively better with each new issue. Their fine co-operation is responsible for the excellent showing.

Early in January three contribution boxes were placed in the Arts, Education and Medical buildings for the convenience of those who wished to contribute items of general student interest.

The finances of the paper were handled by Students' Council subsidy.

The Introduction Banquet in the Education Cafeteria started off a round of activities for the Ag Club. The club promptly showed its supremacy by capturing the Football Parade Trophy. The social tradition was carried on when the Nurses and the Aggies got together at the Informal Dance in Athabasca gym, and reached its peak at the annual formal dance held at the Trocadero.

Athletics played a prominent part in Ag activity. Under the leadership of Howie Fredeen a field day was inaugurated. Following this the energetic Aggies retired to the Varsity Rink where the pros eked out victory by a narrow margin in a game of broomball with the seniors.

At the annual Graduation Banquet at the Macdonald the guest speaker, Dr. J. W. Howe, spoke on "Agriculture in Jamaica." It was at this function that awards to winners of the various Field Day events were made.

The Arts and Science Club, formed only last year, found that it had many precedents to set. The executive realized that they were at the head of a very large group of students with widespread interests. It was difficult to organize meetings that would be of interest to all branches of the Faculty.

However the professors' panel discussion on "The Attitude of Canadian University Students" brought forth an enthusiastic group. A similar discussion was held later on, when four students expressed their opinions of the faculty.

The annual Mardi Gras was held on February 15 in the Drill Hall. Under the individualistic and able management of Alwyn

Scott, the hall took on a festive aspect in keeping with the traditions of the New Orleans Mardi Gras. Ted Bay, Pembina candidate for King of the Mardi Gras, reigned over the proceedings after eliminating Lloyd Eamer and Colin Murray.

Grace and Symmetry in the "Waltz of the Flowers"

Newly introduced to the campus, the University Ballet Club was formed early last fall under the sponsorship of the Wauneita Society. Much credit is due to the initiative and ability of Miss Stella Holosko for the formation and existence of the Club.

Students responded enthusiastically to the venture, and spent approximately three hours a week learning the art of ballet. Surprisingly enough, the membership boasted five men as active participants.

The purpose of the Ballet Club is to further the interest and appreciation of ballet, by giving instruction in the dance to its members. Many stiff joints and over-fed figures succumbed to the strenuous practices each Tuesday evening.

The main feather in the cap of this club is the "Nutcracker Ballet" presented in Convocation Hall on March 21st. For a club still suffering growing-pains, the presentation of such a successful production was a remarkable achievement.

It doesn't take a Chartered Accountant to see that the Commerce Club this year was slightly "top-heavy." The freshies not only rescued the Treasurer, but also joined whole-heartedly in Club activities. As most of them were veterans they worked hard to catch up on lost study years.

The juniors were more nonchalant about their courses, participating in extra-curricular activities, especially sports. The staid old seniors, paced by Marcel Lambert, Alberta's 1947 Rhodes Scholar, bent their heads over the books by day and by night.

The Executive was fortunate in having the guidance of Mr. L. Y. Cairns, K.C., B.A., as Honorary President. Activities of the Club included a Get-Acquainted Party in Athabasca Gym in early October, a series of four vocational meetings, the sponsoring of sports teams, and participation in campus activities. Highlight of the year, as always was the Graduation Banquet and Dance, held in mid-March at the Macdonald.

The enlarged membership of the Co-ed Club increased the enthusiasm for the activities of 1946-47.

Our program was wide and varied.

A reception for new members was held in Pembina Lounge. A Hal-lowe'en hike, a skating party and supper meetings encouraged the girls to make new friends. The fraternity girls were our hostesses for an evening in November and were our guests in March. "STARDUST," the semi-formal dance held in February, was the highlight of the year for Co-eds. At the home of Miss Marjorie Sherlock, our Honorary President, we brought our activities to a close with a delightful spring tea.

The club is grateful to Miss Sherlock who helped to make this year a truly memorable one and to other faculty members who co-operated so kindly with us.

Nineteen forty-seven was another successful year for the Campus Co-Op. Inaugurated in 1937 for providing living at cost to varsity students, this organization also provides administrative experience and fellowship.

This year the fourteen members were again active in all phases of extra-curricular activities—and one member learned in four months how to blast a fair tune out of the bagpipes. But in spite of these obvious handicaps they managed to acquit themselves well academically.

Co-operation is the keynote of the organization and this co-operation is not limited to dish washing and house-cleaning, but extends on a very solid basis to homework (how about it, Don) and girl friends (your turn to talk, Hans).

Of course tubbings deserve honorable mention, for they served not only as punishment for erring individuals, but also as social events greatly enjoyed by the other 13 members observing the operation.

In theory, the House Manager is in charge of this department, but he began to doubt the value of his authority when he was carried up to that tub of ice-water.

The program of the Debating Club was to have been threefold in 1946-47 with the inter-faculty debate for the Hugill Cup, the intervarsity competition for the McGoun cup and the Mock Parliament.

The interfaculty debates for the Hughill Cup was announced but because the Faculty of Education, last year's winners, failed to contest the cup, and because of a general lack of interest on the campus, the debate was cancelled for this year.

In the intervarsity debates Alberta's visiting team, Bill Lindsay and George Gibson, lost the debate by a narrow margin to U. of Saskatchewan, in Saskatoon. Manitoba defeated the Alberta home team—Peter Faminow and Hal Bronson, and retained the McGoun cup.

The Mock Parliament was an innovation on the campus. The constitution was prepared and all arrangements made by the Debating, Public Speaking and Political Science Clubs.

With over a hundred students registered in the Faculty of Dentistry the Dental Undergraduate Society has had a successful year. The agenda of monthly meetings of the Society included addresses by members of the staff, interesting films and refreshments.

Although their facilities have been crowded and equipment hard to get the students and staff persevered. The first year class, the largest ever registered and the first post-war class, is made up of veterans who have had the interests of their class and the faculty at heart. Our graduating class was the first since the accelerated course of the war years began.

Highlight of the social functions of the society was the annual banquet and dance held at the Macdonald Hotel in the spring. Several informal dances and other group gatherings were arranged during the year.

Along with the well-attended meetings and the social functions the D.U.S. actively participated in sports. Dent teams were entered in interfac competitions in Hockey and Basketball.

1946-47 was another highly successful year in the annals of the Drama Society. Active membership in the club reached a new high and the enthusiasm, co-operation and helpfulness of actors, directors, technical and production crews, business, publicity and executive members made for some exceptionally fine dramatic productions. Professor R. Orchard, of the Department of Fine Arts, and adviser to the Drama Society, led the way in firmly establishing productions of first-rate quality.

The Inter-Year Plays staged in Convocation Hall at the end of November were proclaimed by the judges the finest in 26 years. January saw eight privileged and excited members travelling to U.B.C. with the play Martine, and in March a highly successful production of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night was presented.

Regular monthly meetings with guest speakers kept the Drama Society functioning smoothly. The year was brought to a close with an informal banquet.

Twelfth Night is, in tradition, the night that marks the end of the Christmas festivities, which meant much more to our ancestors than they do to us. If there is therefore any significance in the title, it is that the whole play is something of a revel. It is a topsy-turvy world where the fool is the wisest man. And if you are still unable to see any reason for the title "Twelfth Night," Shakespeare has provided an alternative, "What You Will."

January 16, 17 and 18 the Drama Society participated in the 2nd annual Inter-Varsity Drama Festival at U.B.C. with their production of Martine, a French drama in five scenes by Jean Jacques Bernard. The Alberta play won wide acclaim for its delightful representational setting, and the sincere naturalistic style of acting turned in by the players—Donna Cross, Jim Linn, Lucille Parks, Irving Lerner and Alta Mitchell. Prof. Orchard did the splendid job of directing.

radio

Under the able direction of Don Bickerdike, Al Smith and Jack Storey the radio drama enthusiasts accomplished new and big things this year. Voice recordings were made, at least one play a month was produced, and a play-writing contest was held, the winners of the latter being Trudy Fraser, Dante Lenardon and Violet Ulasovetz.

Its purposes are: to direct social, literary and athletic activities within the Faculty; to act as a liaison between students and staff members of the Faculty; and to act in its official capacity as Alberta Teachers' Association Local No. 57 in sponsoring professional activities and in furthering the professional interests of teachers and teachers-in-training.

referring to Engineers of course. This year we tried hard to fulfill this situation as some nine hundred would-be slip-stick artists roamed the campus. With such a large enrollment it was only natural that the E.S.S. would have a bumper year.

Engineers won the interfac track championship again and the colors of the Engineers were carried into all interfac sports but the Bulletin trophy passed from our possession.

Meetings rolled around frequently with various guest speakers and films providing the bulk of the entertainment. By far the most successful meeting, however, was the one at which the candidates for queen of the ball were introduced to a properly appreciative audience. In January the ninth annual ball under the capable direction of George Davis surpassed all previous undertakings. When Pres. Jack Randle crowned Queen Denise history was made as the first varsity dance ever to be broadcast went on the air. Elections came and went quietly this year (because of a few not too subtle hints from headquarters) and as usual another very successful year was ended by the annual conference at the Mac.

Speeches arousing a wide interest were broadcast.

Panels were held on subjects such as Trieste and the Potsdam Agreements. Documentary films of international importance proved interesting. In November Bill Lindsay represented the club at the Portland International Relations Clubs Conference. After Christmas six groups met weekly to study the international relations which led to the outbreak of war in 1939.

1946-47 was a busy and successful year for House Eccers. The club, with an increased membership, was fortunate to have as Honorary President Miss Duggan who returned to the faculty this year from her position as chief nutritionist for the Canadian government.

A party at the outdoor cabin on October 3 welcomed the freshettes. Further activities included a float for the football parade, a skit for the Waw-Waw carnival, decorations and lunch for the Junior Prom and lunch for the house dance honouring the intervarsity basketball players.

Monthly meetings in Pembina Hall were highly successful and well attended. Interesting programs included a talk by Mrs. Bentley on "Designing as a Career", a fashion show by club members, discussion of summer work, and an address by an Alberta graduate, Mrs. Cliff Walker, on research in South Carolina.

L'année 1946-47 a été parmi les meilleures dans l'histoire du Cercle Français. Environ 150 membres se sont réunis deux fois par mois dans la grande salle d'Athabasca pour parler français et pour l'écouter. Les étudiants ont beaucoup apprécié les chansons, les jeux français, les films français, et les groupes de conversation, qui faisaient parti de chaque réunion.

Le programme de cette année a été bien varié et très intéressant. Dr. Healy a parlé de "La Réprise économique en France;" M. Snowdon d'un voyage imaginaire en France; M. Laval-lée de la Bataille de Normandie; M. Bates de "Sous le Ciel de la Méditerranée;" Mlle Fraser a fait une causerie sur son séjour dans un camp français au Colombie Britannique; Mlle. Anderson a parlé du Cours d'été en français à Trois-Pistoles; et M. Card nous a donné ses impressions du "Paysage Suisse et Italien". En février, Mlle. Sigsworth, accompagné par Mlle. Kitchen, a chanté quelques jolies chansons française. Enfin, le Cercle s'est terminé avec un banquet et Soirée Sociale, qui a eu un grand succès.

The Law Club of the University of Alberta is one of the oldest and most active groups on the campus. Membership is confined to those students enrolled in the Faculty of Law. The headquarters of the organization are located in the Junior and Senior Law libraries in the Arts Building.

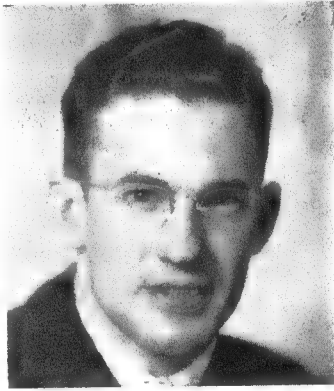

The year's activities got under way early in the term with a smoker, held so that new members might get acquainted with others in the group. Just before Christmas the Club Roosevelt was taken over for a very successful mixed party which was well attended by students and faculty members.

The highlight of the term came on February 24, when the twenty-sixth annual banquet, in honor of the eleven members of the graduating class, was held in the Macdonald Hotel. President Sam Lieberman presided as toast-master. The Club was honored to have as its guests the Honourable Horace Harvey, Chief Justice of Alberta; other members of the supreme Court; Dr. Robert Newton, President of the University; the Honourable Lucien Maynard, K.C., Attorney General of Alberta; and members of the faculty.

Mr. J. C. Mahaffy, K.C., of Calgary, delivered a very instructive and entertaining after dinner address. A novel feature of the occasion was the highly original form of the programmes which took the shape of a miniature appeal book. The traditional skit put on by first year members had as its theme a well known and amusing case in the law of torts.

light and sound crew

The year 1946-47 has seen the organization and initial operations of the Light and Sound Crew. It was inaugurated as a separate group under the Students' Council to provide all clubs and organizations with lighting and sound service.

The efforts of this crew, who worked behind the scenes, will be well remembered in the lighting of the Drama Club productions, the Ballet, the Musical Club's concerts, and the Symphony concert. Dances, basketball games, and numerous other functions requiring sound equipment were capably handled by this active group.

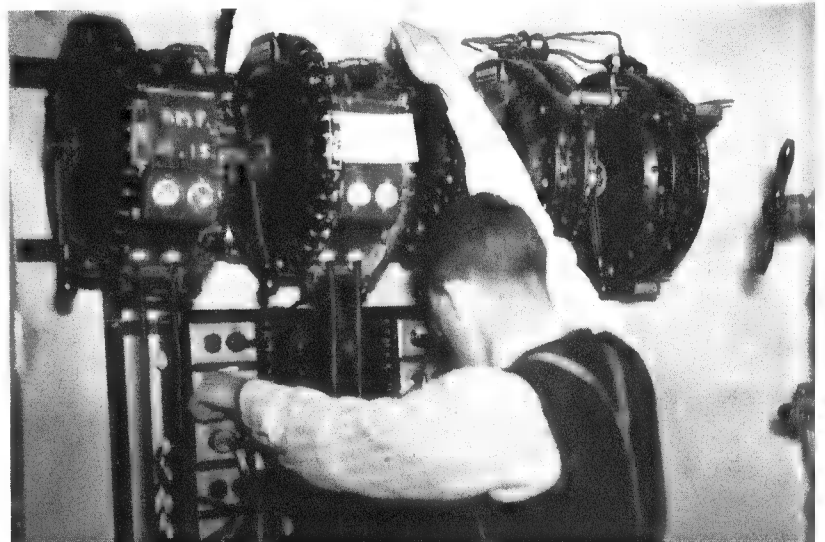

Because of the efforts of the crew, our Drill Hall was equipped with the finest public address system in the city. Two new microphones, two portable speakers, and a new amplifier were purchased, greatly increasing the crew's original sound and stage-lighting equipment.

The progress made by the Light and Sound Crew, since its formation on our campus has been outstanding. The crew hopes the future will see further extension of its field of activity.

make-up club

With shouts of "Who's got the No. 9" and, "Where's the spot-lite clear," the Make-up Club started another active season. Events followed in rapid succession throughout the term keeping all cosmeticians extremely busy. Besides the Drama Society's functions the four interyear plays and Twelfth Night and the Ballet Club's production of the Nutcracker Suite, we offered our help at dances and in skits around the campus. Several overtown jobs came our way: the engineering types flocked in to apply leg make-up to the chorus line at the Glenora Ice Show.

ALWYN SCOTT

After lessons and pep talks by our coach Mrs. MacDonald we were ready for anything and everything. We thrive on contrasts. The frosh play featured an Indian in full war-paint; the senior play was a drawing-room comedy of the 19th century; the soph play was of medieval setting; and the junior play was a modern effort set in New York. The Shakespearean play proved to be our greatest difficulty.

As the other clubs got into full swing and expanded their activities the Make-Up Club enlarged as well. President Alwyn Scott and Secretary Nevis Robb say that next year there will be openings in this club for many novices. Since the club offers lessons in make-up even the lowly beginners will be welcomed. The necessary qualifications are perseverance and extreme patience—of course an artistic temperment helps.

university mixed chorus

With the pending retirement of its conductor, Gordon Clarke, the University Mixed Chorus this spring concludes a remarkable three-year history. Started in September, 1944, the choir gave its first concerts in Convocation Hall the following spring. In 1946 it filled Edmonton's McDougall auditorium two nights in succession, immediately to repeat the success in Calgary. This spring, in addition to performing again to both these cities, there was a successful tour through southern Alberta including Didsbury, Cardston, Claresholm, Lethbridge, Raymond, McLeod and Coleman, finishing with a final appearance in Convocation Hall on May 14. In February of this year, the Chorus broadcast over the C.B.C.'s Western Network, while the R.C.A. Victor Co. is shortly to issue a limited edition of selected recordings. Merely bad luck prevented the appearance of the choir in Toronto during May, under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Down Town Club. For a newly organized amateur chorus, this is a brilliant showing. Its repertoire has included only the best in choral music, while it has made a special feature of unaccompanied selections. The university may justly pride itself on the laurels collected by its Mixed Chorus.

Its moving spirit has been its founder and conductor, Gordon Clarke, who now relinquishes his post under the pressure of the final years of medicine. It is with unanimous and unqualified regret that his choristers bid him farewell and wish him a comparable success in his chosen profession.

The 1946-47 term started with a bang with the Medical Banquet and Ball held in the Macdonald Hotel in September. At this affair there were over two hundred present, a large percentage being local practitioners. The guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Hardy of the Department of Classics.

In November Gordon Fierheller and Frank Benedict went to Montreal to attend the Tenth Annual Conference of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes. This highly successful conference was attended by delegates from all the Medical Schools in Canada. Much progress was made, one item being affiliation with the Canadian Medical Association.

The M.U.S. holds monthly meetings in the Medical amphitheatre. Guest speakers are invited from various fields to address the students. This year we were fortunate to have Mr. Robert Muir, President of the Edmonton Red Cross Society, Dr. Stephen Taylor, Member of Parliament from London, England, and Dr. Collip, former professor at Alberta noted in the field of research.

music

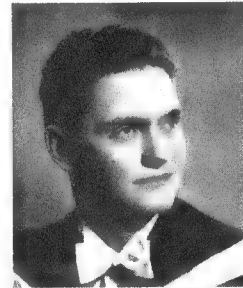

This year the University Musical Club has had a large and enthusiastic membership of music-loving students and Edmonton residents who have shown a gratifying response to the efforts of the executive to present good music by talented artists on Alberta's campus.

Five Sunday night concerts featuring student and local artists were presented during the past season in Convocation Hall. Themes for these concerts included "Music of Schubert, Weber, and Saint-Saens", "Impressionistic Music", and "Dance Forms". For the first time artists received a small remuneration for their services.

The policy of presenting a nationally known artist at the University was begun last year by the club and it is expected that this will continue to be an annual event. This year the Musical Club presented as its special guest artist Miss Claire Gagnier, prominent French-Canadian soprano. Her performance in Convocation Hall on February 14 was enthusiastically received by a capacity audience.

The Executive is indebted to the Honorary President, Prof. L. H. Nichols, for much encouragement and practical assistance and to Miss Maimie Simpson, Mrs. John Reymes-King and Mrs. D. B. Scott for their gracious patronage.

mining and geological society

MALCOLM CLARK

The Mining and Geological Society was organized in 1914 as a student organization affiliated with the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. It affords the students in mining and geology a chance to get together and talk shop.

During the year speakers of interest and films on geology and mining topics were featured at the meetings and as is the custom of the Society each meeting was started with the serving of coffee in the Geology Laboratory.

This year saw the first Annual Banquet and Dance of the society held at the Macdonald Hotel. It was a great success and marked the 32nd anniversary of the oldest student organization of its kind on our campus.

The Newman Club is the organization for Catholic students on the campus. The club's raison d'être is threefold: to aid the members in their faith, that each may become a stronger asset to the cause of Christianity; to encourage the student members in their studies, in order that they may excel academically; and to give an opportunity to all the members to develop their talents for entertaining one another so that each might adapt himself to a social world.

The 1946-47 season has seen considerable activity. Communion breakfasts, round table discussions and special lectures were well attended by members. A choir which the club formed proved to be most enjoyable. The Sunday evening socials highlighted by the Valentine's and St. Patrick's party were the club's most popular activities.

This year was of great significance to the McLeod Club. A constitution which is expected to form the foundation for next year's program was adopted. This organization is to be of social and educational value to the students in the school of nursing and aims to stimulate a keen sense of personal and social responsibility. The immediate purpose of the McLeod Club is to foster sympathetic understanding and to provide a medium of expression among the student nurses on the campus and in the hospital.

Although the executive took office late this year, serious attempts were made to establish the Club officially. Activities were numerous and varied. A social get-together at the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion initiated the successful season. Highlights of the year were a sleigh-ride and moccasin dance, medical talks and informal gatherings. The annual Banquet and Dance held at the Macdonald Hotel was well attended and maintained the high standard set in former years.

outdoor club

Outdoor Club week-enders jam the cabin.

Skiin' time.

The 1946-47 Varsity year saw a bigger and better club beckoning many campus enthusiasts to the great out-of-doors. Sleighrides, ski trips, moccasin dances and bonfires highlighted the year's activities.

Freshmen were first introduced to the Outdoor Club as they gathered around a roaring bonfire at the hill during Freshmen Introduction Week. During the weeks that followed, ski manager Dave Freeze directed would-be members in clearing a bigger and better hill before the first snowfall. Brush and stumps were removed and the toboggan run banked under the direction of Albert Wells and Alex Holley. Later each afternoon Marion Puffer's crew served doughnuts and coffee to the work parties. An innovation in membership fees was the arrangement whereby one afternoon's help on a work party entitled members to a reduced rate. Sunday after Sunday, the results became more gratifying as the main hill was prepared for the first snow fall. An auxiliary hill was cleared, where in future years the club experts can develop their style free from many beginners who struggle up and down the main slope.

After Christmas, the club held a successful new year's sleighride and helped to entertain the visiting basketball teams from Manitoba and Saskatchewan at a gathering on Sunday afternoon at the cabin with films and eats to welcome our eastern visitors.

The annual winter-weekend Feb. 7 and 8 coincided with Edmonton's Siberian spell, when temperatures dropped to 30 below. Biting winds failed to keep sporting enthusiasts from the trolley tramp and moccasin dance Friday night; however the ski-meet scheduled for the following afternoon was cancelled.

The best snow of the year coming late in February and March played havoc with final studying. Those who could not resist the temptation spent some fine last hours on the hill, winding up a happy year of out-door activities.

Backed by the largest paid-up membership in its history, the Pharmacy Club, under President Bill Switzer and his executive, started the season with a successful party at the National Hall. This evening included a novel "Take-it-or-leave it" program, community singing, refreshments and dancing. To provide entertainment at the Waw-Waw week end carnival the club sponsored an ambitious side-show, complete with a luscious trio of South Sea maidens and a harmonizing barber shop sextet. An enjoyable sleighride and dance at Eastwood Community Hall ushered out 1946.

A gala banquet held on January 17 in the main dining room of the Mac was followed by dancing to the mellow music of Frank McCleavy's orchestra. This function has come to be recognized as a farewell to the graduating class who are leaving the sheltered confines of A405.

political science club

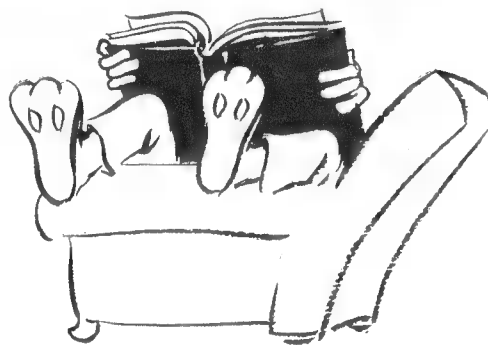

The Political Science Club was late in forming but once under way it proceeded with great gusto and held much interest on the campus for the rest of the session. Its first and most ambitious undertaking was the formation of a Mock Parliament. Uniting with the Public Speaking Club and the Debating Society for this purpose, the Political Science Club sponsored an exciting and interesting election campaign with all political parties being represented. The sessions of the Mock Parliament which followed held wide interest and promoted much thought. Such was the success of the Mock Parliament this year that it promises to be a permanent feature of the Political Science Club.

Hardly was the shouting of elections over, when the Club embarked on a series of study meetings, at each of which a speaker from one of the political parties presented his party's views on the topics under discussion.

Other highlights of the year were: a mass meeting at which Harper Prowse, M.L.A., gave a stirring address on the part the University student should play in political affairs; a radio forum broadcast over CKUA in which five Club members gave a lively discussion on "Immigration for Canada." The institution of this Students' Radio Forum is also a new activity on the Campus which will undoubtedly change to become a permanent feature of the Political Science Club.

The pre-med and pre-dent students voted in February to form a club, "The Pre-Med-Dent Club." At the first meeting guided by Mat Bernstein and E. Cowan nominations for the executive were accepted. Following the nominations, Dr. Campbell, a graduate in medicine of this university gave an interesting talk on psychosomatic medicine.

An executive was elected on March 10 and the position of vice-president was left vacant to allow a freshman to fill it in the fall. A publicity committee composed of W. McJannett, J. Macdonald and A. Tobin was chosen to have the club announced to new members in the fall. Other committees will be filled in the fall term.

The Public Speaking Club had a greatly enlarged membership this year. Under the capable leadership of Les Gue it carried out a program which was designed to acquaint its members with the fundamentals of speaking in public and develop them to a point where they were given experience in the various situations in which public speaking is done.

The club was given a talk on the fundamentals of public speaking and this was followed by several practices in which every member gave a short talk. At subsequent meetings longer talks were given. Mr. John A. McIntyre, member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Public Speaking Club, was present at every meeting and his helpful criticisms enabled the members to realize their mistakes and to improve their style.

Highlights of the year included a fascinating evening spent learning the art of speaking before a microphone and the many tricks used for obtaining special voice effects. Another evening was devoted to recording voices to hear what they sounded like over the radio. Trials were held in Convocation Hall in order to become accustomed to large halls. As a conclusive test of their newly developed talents fifteen-minute talks were given by the members.

social service club

This club arose out of the common interest in social service work among students and their realization of social responsibilities. For some time before its formation Claude May had tried to gather interested students together to assemble and dispense all information regarding the fields of the work, the educational requirements and the standing of the various schools of Social Work.

The organization meeting was held in Arts 139 on October 16, at which time temporary officers Claude May as chairman and Sylvia Tillard as Secretary were elected.

After the acceptance of the Club Constitution by the Students' Council on January 22, a formal election was held January 28, at which time the following were elected: Claude May, President; Adrian Berry, Vice-President; and Clarise Shankman, Secretary-Treasurer.

Interesting talks and lively discussions featured the meetings, including addresses by Mr. D. E. Smith on "Schools of Social Work and Requirement", Mrs. Elizabeth Richardson on the "Field of Social Work," and Miss MacLean on "Child Welfare and Adoption". Several films on associated subjects were also shown.

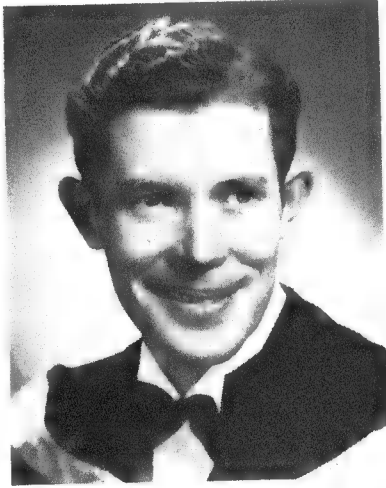

At a supper meeting before Christmas Mr. A. S. R. Tweedie, Associate Professor of Extension was asked to act as Hon. President. He has assisted in many ways in suggesting more practical and concrete activities.

student christian movement

LES GUE

This year the Student Christian Movement expanded under a partly-new executive, a new campus secretary, and a flood of fresh ideas. We held a retreat at the Bissel Memorial church to brief our members on the aims and purposes of the group. Here we defined our function, enlarged our cabinet and clarified its duties, and laid plans for the coming year.

Many of our plans bore fruit; Student church services were held monthly in Con Hall, addressed by our new Campus Secretary Rev. Frank Ball. We jointly sponsored Chapel Services each morning from 7:40 to 7:50 in St. Stephen's College Chapel. Study groups tried to fathom the problem, "What is this Christianity?" Once every two weeks our Firesides came around with their addresses, sing-songs, discussions, refreshments and worship. The Penny Boxes for relief to Europe and Asia were typical of the action side of our program.

One of the high spots of our S.C.M. year was the visit of the popular speaker Dr. Koo. Many other visitors added to the interest of our program, among them Rev. R. H. Ting, Missionary Secretary of the National S.C.M.; Rev. Kenneth Prior, Agricultural Missionary to Africa; and Philippe Maury of the World Student Christian Federation of which our S.C.M. is a member body.

Many other activities flash before us as we view the year's activities—the freshman hike, the tea for the New Zealand students, the carol service, the group leadership course, the banquet, and, best of all, the spring camp.

This, for 1946-47, was the Student Christian Movement.

One of the oldest clubs on the campus, the Theolog Club, in its 21st year had plenty of the old fire. Non-denominational, members came from six different communions, giving strength in diversity. International visitors who addressed the Club were Rev. Ken Pryor, Alberta grad now of Nigeria; M. Phillippe Maury of the World Student Christian Federation, formerly of the student underground movement during the occupation of France; and Rev. K. H. Ting of Shanghai, now Missionary Secretary of the S.C.M. of Canada. Honorary President Thompson addressed the Club on the subject "Church Statesmanship"; Professor John Reymes-King spoke on "The Relation of the Minister to Church Music"; Professor George B. Caird gave an address on "The Idea of a University". Student members participated vigorously and profitably in all programmes, especially in a four-man forum on "The Student Mission Field", and in the Annual Banquet which climaxed the year.

Once again the Theolog Club, not large in membership, carried through a stimulating and well balanced year. It holds a deservedly respected place among faculty clubs as one in which students and professors meet in a spirit of sincere good fellowship and devotion to a common faith.

A full symphony orchestra was formed at the University last year, and over forty members gave their first concert on March 5 this year, under the direction of Ted Lindskoog. The members undertook the presentation of a concert with some trepidation but, to quote a local newspaper, the performance "turned out to be the surprise musical package of the year".

The first portion of the program was broadcast over CKUA and a recording was made of it. Cathyrn Zender, soprano, was the guest artist. Although the nucleus of the orchestra was made up of students, it was necessary to supplement them with a few professional players in order to provide all the wide variety of instruments required for a full musical score.

The audience at the initial concert declared themselves enthusiastically in favor of more frequent performances of symphonic music by this "baby" of the campus.

Conferences have been the outstanding feature of this year's V.C.F. activities. Enthusiasm ran high among the fifty students who enjoyed a week-end conference at Pidgeon Lake in October when Mr. Wilbur Sutherland, V.C.F. secretary for the three prairie Universities, emphasized the need of positive Christian thought and action as the result of a personal relationship with God. Also present were Alberta's ten delegates just returned from the Western Canadian Inter-Varsity convention at Saskatoon.

Throughout the year three study groups were sponsored each week, designed to provide a balanced program of Bible study, special lecture series, and missionary discussion. Prayer meetings were held daily in St. Steven's chapel and in the Educational Building. The social program was launched by a freshman reception, which was followed throughout the year by a variety of outdoor activities.

A service to the general student body was provided through the operation of the Book Exchange.

The highlight of the year was the International Conference for Missionary Advance, held at the University of Toronto during the Christmas vacation. The theme, "Completing Christ's Commission" was elaborated by outstanding speakers including representatives from India, China and Islam. Upon returning from Toronto, Alberta's eleven delegates instituted a local conference on the same missionary theme.

For members of the V.C.F. the past year has been a profitable one in establishing their Biblical faith that Christianity is practical in everyday life.

big block club

The Big Block Club, at present under President Bob Freeze and Secretary Jack Flavin, originated in 1935 with the intention of acting as an organization to sponsor sports and sportsmanship on and off the campus. Membership, which is closed, is given as an award for what is considered to be outstanding ability and sportsmanship in athletics. The Big Block Club may award a special Big Block A, the major athletic award on the campus, to an athlete prominent in managerial service.

The club was not active during the war years but now that intercollegiate athletics have returned it is rapidly regaining its former prestige. In addition to other activities the Big Block Club annually puts on an Inter-High School Ski meet, and sponsors Color Night. An alumni member of the club sits on the Awards Committee. This year's member is Dr. Jack Neilson.

varsity cheer squad

VARSITY! VARSITY! RAH! RAH! RAH!

The first official function of the Varsity Cheer Squad was to introduce the Alberta yells and cheers to the freshmen at the Frosh Pep Rally held in Renfrew Park. Amid fireworks, enthusiastic freshmen and freshettes and blaring band, Tevie Miller's crew of lung experts put over the best Pep Rally in years.

At the football games the girls in their snappy short skirts braved the cold to cheer Alberta on to victory over Saskatchewan. Highlight of the year was the Cheer Squad jaunt to Saskatchewan where the Bears were vocally driven to two more wins.

After Christmas Jim Woods took over as leader of an expanded crew that really put a kick into the Intercollegiate Basketball series even though they did suffer severe competition from Manitoba's Peto sisters.

As early as the middle of September, Head Coach Maury Van Vliet, with Percy Daigle as assistant backfield coach, began putting the boys through their paces at the Varsity grid. A new addition to the coaching staff was Jerry Searight, outstanding centre of the Calgary Stampeders. Trainer George Mooney was back for a second year.

The front office consisted of President of Rugby Clive Bowsby and a capable manager, Gordon Proctor. Both Allan Batchelor and Mark Miller were with the team again to handle equipment and any other details.

Coach Van Vliet started the season with a good nucleus of men from last year's team. Mickey Hajash and Billy Ingram returned to the backfield and such stalwarts as Art Follet, Jack Allen, Rae Sutherland, Jack Perry, Ted Sawchuck, Hal Peacock and Murray Smith to the line. Many newcomers, including Bob Causgrove, Ken Fraser, Ken Cox and Grant De Fraine proved to have the style needed for Golden Bear play. Harry Hobbs and Ken Moore came to the Bears directly from the Calgary Stampeders. It is doubtful if Alberta has ever before fielded a stronger team.

Co-captains Mickey Hajash and Art Follett led the team through a very successful season, the highlight being the winning of the Hardy Trophy from Saskatchewan with four straight victories. In two games with Calgary Stampeders the Bears gave a good account of themselves, proving to all that before long they'll be able to travel successfully in senior company.

Financially the year was a real success as a spirited team put on a real display of talent ending a bang-up year with the first rugby banquet held at the Macdonald Hotel.

THE GOLDEN BEARS vs. CALGARY JUNIOR STAMPEDERS.

HUSKIES vs. GOLDEN BEARS AT SASKATOON.

Huskies 0—Golden Bears 8.

Huskies 0—Golden Bears 18.

hardy cup series at saskatoon

On October 12th and 14th the Bears got off on the right foot as they turned the Huskies back hard 8-0, and 18-0, at Griffith Stadium in Saskatoon.

Despite cold weather both games were well attended and on Saturday enthusiastic fans watched a close struggle, as Harry Hobbs went over for Alberta's lone touchdown after Bill Ingram ran an interception back 60 yards to the Husky 17 yard line. In Saturday's game the Huskies gave a great display of offensive and defensive work, outplaying the Bears, but failing to take advantage of the breaks. Final score: Bears 8, Huskies 0.

On Monday the Huskies, with four regulars out with injuries, went down before the superior Bear Reserve strength. Ken Cox was the Bears' only injury in Saturday's game.

In the first quarter Graham Cragg took a Bill Ingram forward pass to put Alberta on the scoreboard. In the second half the powerful U. of A. machine rolled over the hapless U. of S. squad almost at will, clicking off nine first downs to two and 195 yards rushing as against 35 for the Huskies. Husky plays were consistently stopped for losses. Grant DeFraine toted a Claire Rooney pass over the line for the second touchdown and Harry Hobbs netted the third on a 10-yard plunge over centre. Both were converted by Mickey Hajash. Final score: Bears 18, Huskies 0.

At Edmonton two weeks later the Bears made it four straight over the Huskies with 14-5 and 19-6 wins. Clark Stadium was the coldest place in the country Saturday afternoon as over 500 alumni in the home-coming-day crowd saw the Golden Bears win the Hardy Cup, held last year by the University of British Columbia, and held previously by Alberta only the years of '28 and '44.

Huskies uncorked a sizzling forward pass attack, completing 7 out of 13 attempts but they could not hold back the cohesive and powerful Bears. In the first quarter Ken Fraser rounded right end on a 20-yard run to score the first touchdown. Hajash converted to make the score 6-0.

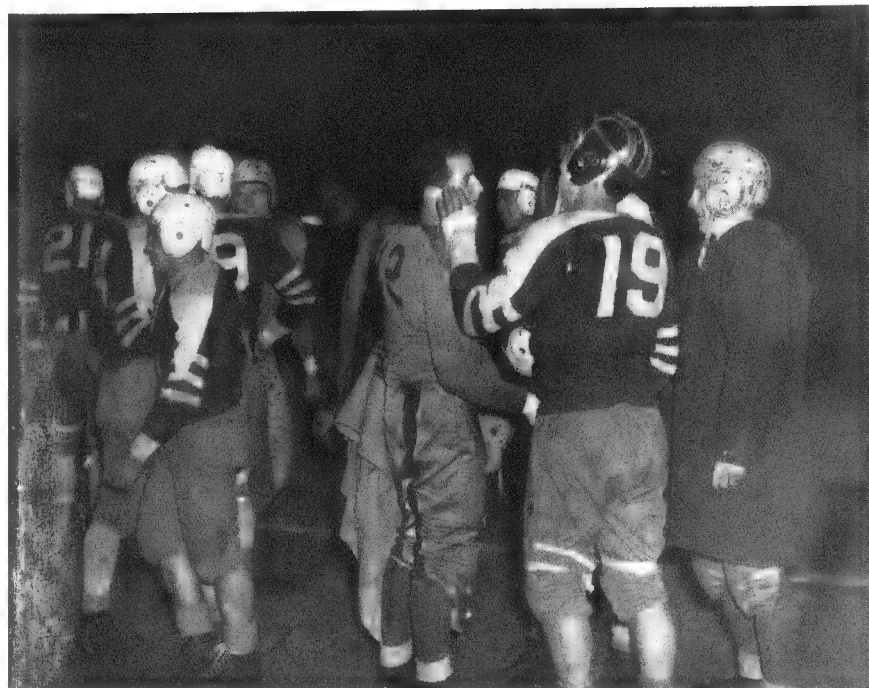

In the second McFadyen scored Saskatchewan's five points on a long solo dash of 87 yards around left end. Eric MacDonald scored for the Bears in the third, and that, with a couple of rouges by Alberta, made the score 14-5 and ended the series.

On Monday in an Exhibition game both squads turned loose many passes in what was probably the best football display of the year. Woodman scored a converted touchdown for the Huskies, MacDonald, DeFraine and Hobbs carried the ball across for the U. of A. Juggernaut.

And thus the greatest team Alberta has ever fielded has returned the Hardy Trophy to the Arts Building showcase.

the spiked shoe club

Because of the co-operation of Assistant Professor Ritchie Hughes, an addition to the staff of the Physical Education Department, the Spiked Shoe Club began its comeback from the wartime low. On October 19th, three and one-half weeks after Varsity opened, the Track Team competed in Saskatoon against Saskatchewan and Manitoba for the Cairns and Rutherford trophies.

Both trophies were won by Saskatchewan on the strength of 51 points to Manitoba's 46 and Alberta's 29 in the men's; and Saskatchewan's 36, Manitoba's 30, and Alberta's 6 in the women's events. Marion Irwin took a first in the high jump to be the only placer on the women's squad.

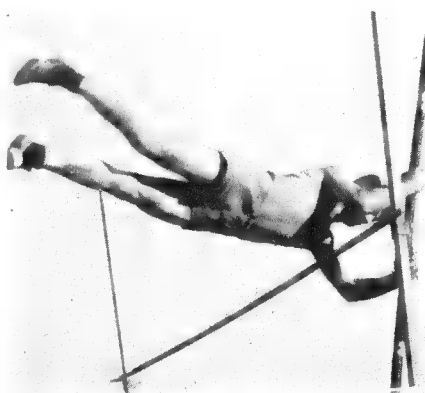

The men's points came mainly from the efforts of one and two-milers Nick Lupaschuk and Bill Lindsay who far outdistanced their fields to place first and second in each of the two events. President Murray Stewart gained Alberta's only other first with a win in the javelin throw.

The managing duties for the Saskatoon trip were handled by Tim Tyler.

In Interfaculty competition Elsie McFarland with 16 points led the Education girls to a lopsided 54-4 win over Arts. Murray Stewart paced Applied Science with 12 of their 44 points to defeat Arts and Science 30, Agriculture 27, Ed-Med-Pharm-Dents 18 and Comm-Law with 6. Karl Erdman and Bill Lindsay were next high scorers with 10 and 8 respectively.

On home-coming day Nick Lupaschuk outran Bill Lindsay and Bob Rosser to capture the Kerr Cross-Country Trophy. Nick, who is the Calgary Herald Road Race champion, won the Riley Trophy as the outstanding track man for '46-'47.

Runner-up . . .
JOHNNY STOTT.

Following on the heels of Freshmen Introduction Week, the tennis tournament was run off at the Garneau and University courts. Despite the frosty air of mid-October, and the resulting necessity for speedy elimination before the courts were snowed under, about one hundred would-be Bill Tildens and Alice Marbles thronged to the clubhouse. The entry list was studded with such well-known names in the local tennis world as Gordon McLaws—Provincial Men's Champion, Johnny Stott—Civil Service Tennis Club Champion, Jean Martyn—runner-up to Alberta Ladies' Champion, and Isobel Hooper—Edmonton Ladies' Champion.

Gordon McLaws and Johnny Stott both came through to the finals of the men's singles without dropping a set. Gord was victorious in the final three-set battle. Jean Martyn and Helen Lilly—Edmonton Junior champion, had more difficulty reaching the final bracket. In the semi-finals each was extended to three long sets with Isobel Hooper and Mary Collins respectively.

The intercollegiate tourney was held in Winnipeg, where the Green and Gold's four-man team was greeted with a howling gale and a raging snowstorm. Our two champions Gordon McLaws and Jean Martyn teamed together to win the Priscilla Hammond Trophy for mixed doubles after a terrific battle against the Saskatchewan team. The game was a real audience thriller (9-7, 13-11). Saskatchewan won the aggregate trophy, after edging out U. of A. by one point.

In the post-war re-inauguration of the Intercollegiate Golf Meet, Alberta's team of Canadian Amateur semi-finalist Jim Hogan and steady Jim Whitelaw took all honors in competition with Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Braving near-winter conditions, U. of A's. representatives stepped out onto Niackwa course in Winnipeg and belted their way to victory.

In the women's division of play, Manitoba won an easy victory over the Saskatchewan and Alberta entries. Because of the very bad weather the women played only a nine-hole competition. Alberta's entrants on the distaff side were Nellie McClung and Marcia Gillespie.

Back in sunny Alberta, second-year Applied Science student, Bill Groves won the Dr. Broadfoot Intramural Golf Trophy with a very steady display of golfing technique. In the final, Groves met Alex Mair and defeated him 3 and 2.

President of Golf Bill Sande did the honors for the golfers in eye-on-the-ball fashion. With golfers such as "beltin'" Jim Hogan on the campus the odd Varsity Golf Championship should filter our way.

senior basketball

PHIL PROCTOR,
President.

MAURIE VAN VLIET,
Coach.

ALEX. ANDREKSON,
Manager.

In the fall of 1945 a big future for the U. of A. athletes was heralded by the appointment of Maury Van Vliet, as Professor of the new Physical Education Dept.

The season of 1945-46 saw Coach Van Vliet take twelve men who had learned their basketball under seven different coaching techniques, and mold them into a smooth functioning unit using still another system of play.

The seeds that were sown during that first season burst into vigorous flower this past year. Two teams were entered in the Edmonton City Senior League, the Golden Bears emerging in first place undefeated, and the Bearcats placing second. During the Christmas holidays the Bears dipped into the Southern part of the province, playing three games, dropping two by scores of 43-62 and 40-51 to Magrath Lions and Raymond Union Jacks, and gaining a win over Cardston.

In mid-January the Raymond Jacks made a visit to Edmonton, playing two games before the largest basketball crowds seen in Edmonton since the heyday of the Commercial grads. In the first game the Jacks eked out a 41-40 win, with the crowd on its feet most of the time; but the following night the Bears came back strong for a 54-47 win.

On January 31 and February 1 the intercollegiate tournament was held on the campus, Manitoba and Saskatchewan falling before the mighty Bears 59-48 and 49-27 as Alberta won the Rigby Trophy.

Eastern Montana State Normal School Yellow Jackets paid a visit to the campus in February and went home with a 53-52 overtime win that was a real thriller. The Bears paid a return visit to Montana, playing Butte School of Mines, Billings Polytechnic Institute and Eastern Normal School. Scores were 48-56, 47-48, and 44-40 respectively, but though the team gained but one victory on the floor they made a great start toward opening the way for future International competition.

To end the season with a bang the Bears took the Provincial Senior Championship, unseating the perennial champion Raymond Union Jacks in two straight games. The greatest team Alberta has ever produced had come into its own.

Handling the team as manager was Alex. Andreksen, who performed a job in that department also of championship calibre. And lots more could be said, but no more space.

the varsity bearcats

For the first time in history the University of Alberta floored a second senior age team, consisting in the main of those players who felt themselves unable to devote the time necessary for play on the senior Golden Bears. The team was built around Nori Nishio and Sammy Sheckter, former Golden Bears. Both of these players were asked to join the Bears at the first of the season but preferred the less time-consuming position on the Bearcats.

The Bearcats played a ten-game senior schedule, winding up in second place with seven wins and three losses. The coach, Sammy Sheckter, took the honors as league high scorer.

When the City League Schedule was finished the Bearcats switched to the Intermediate playdowns for Alberta, handily disposing of last year's champions, the Canadian Legion team of Edmonton, in two straight games. In the Final the 'Cats went down before a New Dayton squad playing on its home floor.

For a couple of games after Christmas Dr. J. Nielson acted as bench coach, while Lloyd Miller was the very able manager throughout the season.

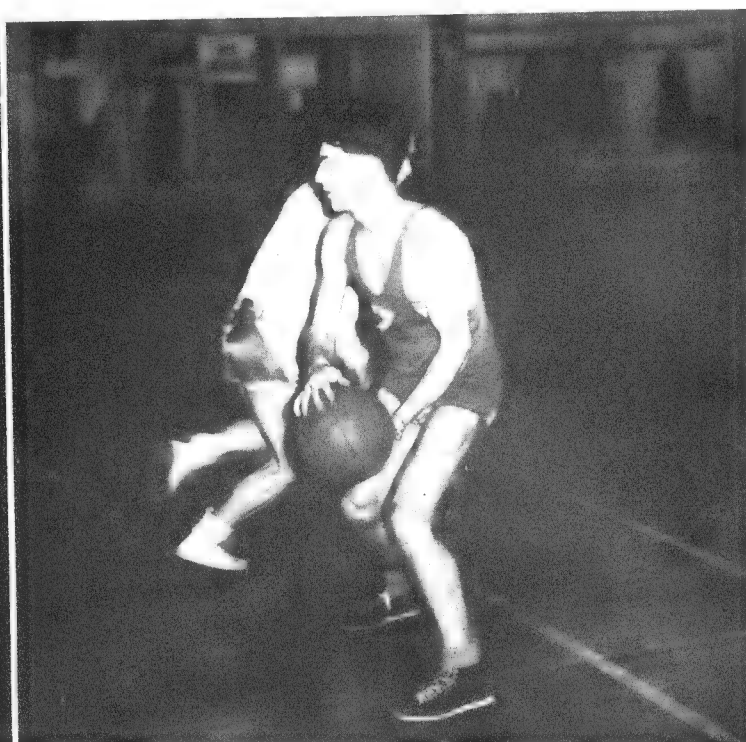

Other players besides Sammy Sheckter and Nori Nishio were Forrest Sherwood of Lethbridge, Burns Larson, Doug Allen and Ted Brewerton of Raymond, Gordon Retallack of Edmonton, and Bill Toole, brought up near the season's end from the Varsity Junior Cubs.

Ironically enough, no place was found in the awards system, for the members of the Bearcats and, with two exceptions, no recognition was given to the Northern Alberta Intermediate Champions.

junior basketball

For the second year Alberta entered an under-age squad in the city junior loop and for the second time the Cubs found themselves about the middle of the ladder in the final standing.

The Edmonton Junior Basketball League offered the best junior basketball ever seen in this area, featuring three well-balanced and outstanding squads: the Y.M.C.A. Toilers (Provincial Champions), Central Edmonteans, and the South Side Edmonteans. The most heartbreaking game of the schedule for the Cubs occurred when Central 'Teens defeated them 53-52 with only seconds to go.

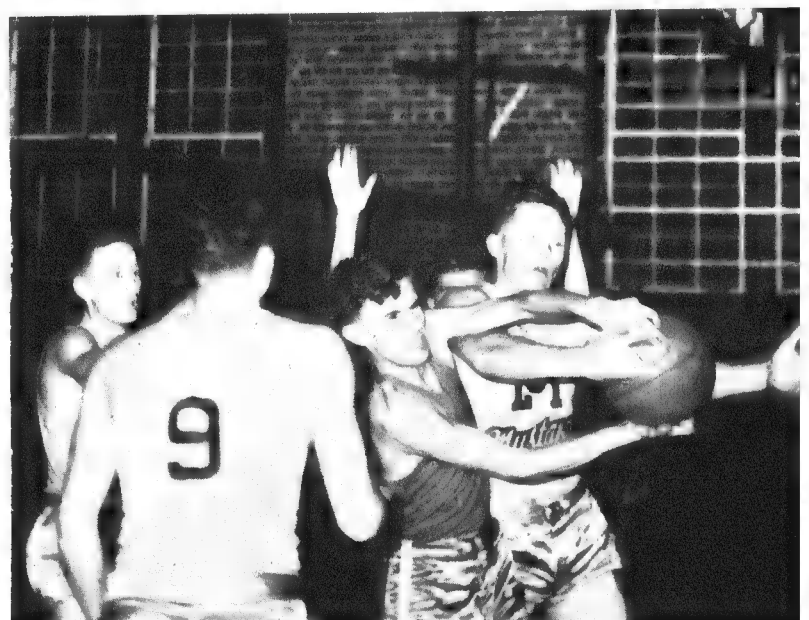

In the league playoffs Central 'Teens outlasted South 'Teens to enter the final against the defending champion Y. Toilers. Central 'Teens then proceeded to give the city championship to the Toilers with no fight whatever.

The Cubs, managed by Tim Tyler, started the year without a regular coach and not until half the schedule had already been played did Jim Macrae, sophomore Golden Bear basketball, take the job. Loss of key members weakened the team in the second half—Harvie Robinson was out with a knee injury, John MacDiarmid was elected President of the Boxing Club, and Dave Barnes was granted a transfer to the Toilers. The rest of the team carried on in worthy style, fighting for every game.

Early in the fall the Interfaculty Basketball loop got underway with twelve teams making up a league which was completely successful. Manager Don Steed, assistants Bert Hall and Karl Erdman, and referees and scorers Mike D'Andrea, Tim Tyler, Cal Hill, Lowell Frodsham, Gordon Peterson and Jay Salmon ran a well-organized, smoothly scheduled program throughout the winter.

Education II set the pace right through while Meds, Arts I and II, Ags and Commerce supplied most of the opposition. For the semi-finals Meds ousted Arts I, 30-28, 24-45, and 52-46, and Eds II downed Arts II 22-23, 29-24, and 47-16, both semi series being hardfought and well-played. The four teams were well-matched as was shown by the fact that both series went the limit. In the final Education II defeated the scalpel men in two straight victories, 35-30 and 34-27, to take the interfac-crown.

Individual high scorer for the year was Alex Andrekson of Arts I with a score of 158 points—35 better than Ken Plumley of Ed II who had 123. The other three of the big five were Johnny Hoffman of Arts I, Roy Spackman and Sandy Gilchrist of the Meds.

tumbling

JIM WHITELAW,
President

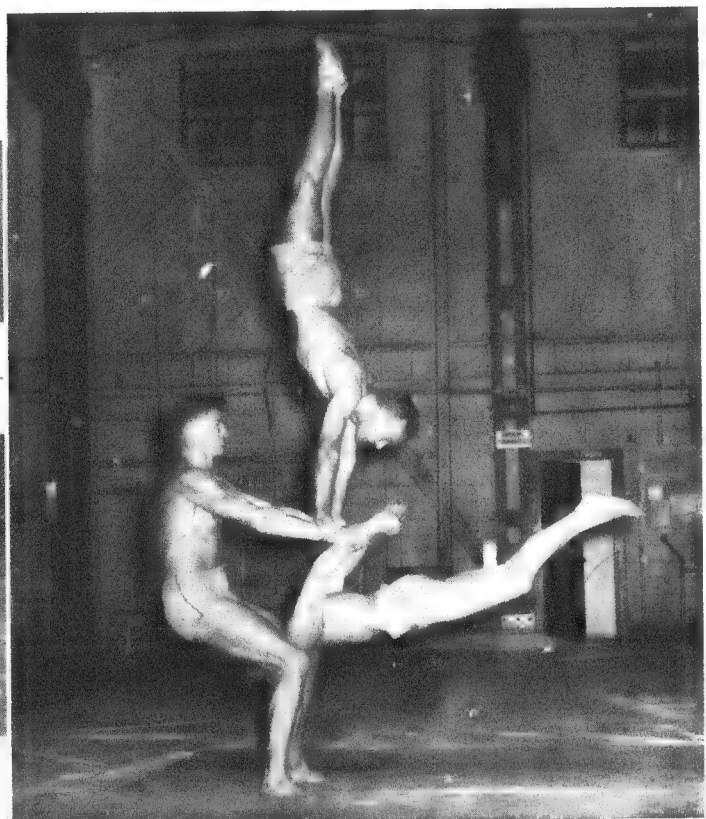

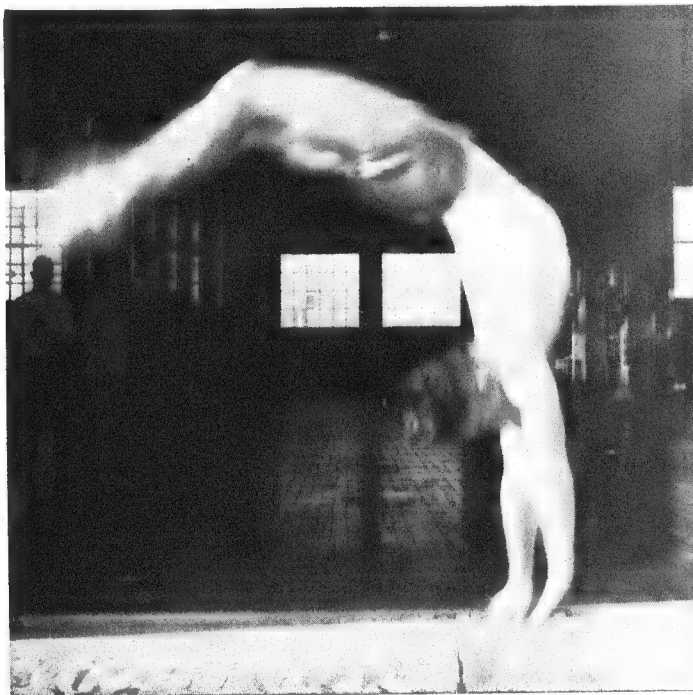

The Tumbling Club, under the direction and coaching of Assistant Professor R. L. Hughes, of the Physical Education Dept., had a very successful year. President Jim Whitelaw and his cohorts put on six displays of tumbling, hand-balancing; and box-horse vaulting at some of the dances and at several basketball games.

The activities of the club were enlarged this year to include high bar and parallel bar work, and a popular newcomer to the campus, hand-balancing.

Approximately twenty students comprised the club membership. Although about one-half of the members were new the club was not as large as could be expected. In the main this was caused by time-table conflicts and the erroneous impression prevalent among the student body that one must be an accomplished tumbler before joining the club. All students, regardless of previous experience, are welcome, and it is hoped that next year, with the varied and interesting program now in operation, many more students will become members of the tumbling club.

On March 1st the wrestlers added another intercollegiate title to Alberta's lengthening list. With victories in four out of six bouts with Saskatchewan, the wrestlers under Manager Howard Fredeen, President Fred Dembiske and Coach Van Delzen did their share toward the Neilson Assault-at-arms Trophy.

Ken Hisaoka, fast featherweight, registered two falls in short order and for his very efficient performance received the newly-donated Beaumont Trophy for the best wrestler on the card.

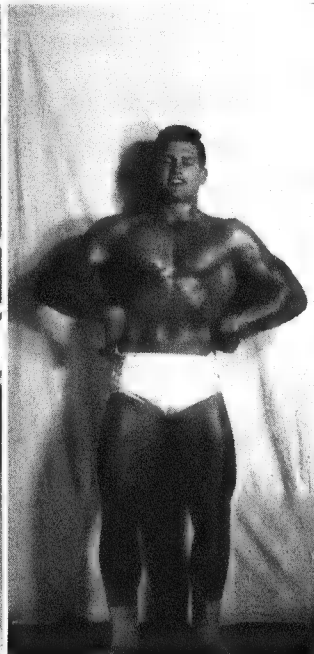

Alberta's other three wins were registered by welterweight Joe Gurba, lightweight Lloyd Yakimowich, and in the light-heavy division by Howard Fredeen. Saskatchewan gained their two victories in the middleweight and heavyweight classes, Skaasgard over Larry Edwards and Jones over Fred Dembiske. Dembiske, outweighed by twenty pounds was substituting for outstanding heavyweight Al Oeming who contracted blood poisoning a short time before the meet.

Manager Howard Fredeen, quite a performer on the mat, and Coach Van Delzen handled the job of getting a team into shape for the meet. Picking the team was in itself no small task because of the large number of members in the club.

boxing

The Boxing Club, under the able supervision of Coach Jack Perry and President Johnny MacDiarmid, witnessed a very successful season. The Club met twice a week in St. Joe's Gym, where personal instruction and assistance was given to every member. The fundamentals of boxing were discussed, demonstrated and practised until each boxer could apply them efficiently.

The training schedule for the thirty enrolled members included the proper boxing stance, accurate and powerful hitting, the correct guarding system, foot work, the art of counter-punching, ring strategy, and pre-fight conditioning.

The boxing season was brought to a close with the Assault-at-Arms against the University of Saskatchewan.

Ray Fleming won his bout when Saskatchewan failed to produce an exponent of the fistic art in the heavyweight division. Rough light-heavy Eldor Berg flashed a beautiful right hook to put Bob Gray from U. of S. away in the third on a T.K.O. In the middle-weight set-to Jack Perry, club coach, took a crowd-pleasing but unscientific bout after cutting up his opponent severely, winning a unanimous decision.

Laurie MacLean outpointed Johnny Galon of Saskatchewan in the welterweight division on a split decision. Feature of this go was the collapse of the ring during one of MacLean's more ambitious attacks upon Galon. Novice Bill Parsons of Alberta fought a very game but losing battle against smooth Horace Beach, voted best boxer of the night, to go out by the TKO route in the fourth round. The featherweight title went to Alberta on a unanimous decision as fast, talented Lennie Maher bested Frank Howarth of Saskatchewan.

Our Club claimed the Howe trophy by defeating five of the six Saskatchewan boxers. The Beaumont trophy was awarded to Eldor Berg for the fine sportsmanship and boxing ability that he has shown throughout the boxing season.

The Golden Bear hockey squad defenders of the Halpenny Trophy, started the '46-'47 season in the Edmonton Intermediate Independent League but when this league folded after Christmas they had to resort to exhibition games with various Edmonton and Central Alberta teams.

Of twenty games played during the year the Bears got the nod on fourteen occasions and in four of the remaining six were defeated by only one goal.

Bill Dimock, a graduate student in Chemistry, and winner of the Dr. Shoemaker award as the most outstanding player for two years in a row, centered the first line with Kenny Cox on the right wing and Bill (Wingy) Dockery on left. Vic Kuzyk, Harry Hobbs, Bill McQuay, Ken Fraser, Scotty Gourley, Bus Younger, Johnny Lyons, Bob Colbourne and Eric MacDonald filled out the other two forward lines, packing a lot of scoring punch in every position.

At the blue line opposing forwards were met by such solids as Bill Ingram, Porky Boyse, Sam Soldan, and "Jimer" Cameron. In the net was Ross Jeffries, the President of Hockey, who was very good if the shot was off the ice and in plain view. Dependable Jeff and capable Jim Ritchie ably took care of the cage work.

In his second year as coach of the Bears, Andy "Shorts" Purcell again welded together a fast, hard-checking team with lots of the "never-say-die" drive. Alberta's reputation as a hockey centre has been well maintained.

interfaculty hockey

Interfaculty hockey during the winter of 1946-47 was slightly disorganized and confused, mainly due to the fact that when Manager McGuffin first quizzed the Sports reps five or six teams were indicated, and ice at the rink was asked for on that basis. But when the circuit finally shaped up, Arts, Applied Science, Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Commerce, Agriculture and Education had come through with ten teams.

Engineers I took an early lead, ending the schedule with one defeat and 16 points. Close behind, at 14, came the slow-starting Ags, mostly on the strength of a five-game winning streak down to the wire. Tied at 12 points were the powerful Arts I and the giant-killing Dents who played six games in nine days, winning five!

In the sudden death semi-finals Eng I downed the Dents 4-2 and Arts I took the measure of Ags 5-4. Then in the best of three finals, the out-for-blood Arts

I cracked down hard on the fighting Engineers to take it all in two straight, 8-1 and 5-3, the last game in overtime after Quigley's last-second goal.

With a powerful aggregation of skiers on the campus it was only natural that this year a Western Canada Intercollegiate Meet should be suggested. Backed by the University of Alberta and the Alberta Provincial Government, which donated trophies for team awards (with a replica for each member) and for individual three-way performance, the meet was made an international affair by the entry of a team from Montana State College. Other teams were entered by Alberta, British Columbia and Manitoba.

The meet was held on the slopes of Mount Norquay at Banff on January 25th and 26th with the University of British Columbia walking off with the team award. The individual championship was won by Jack Davis of Montana, an outstanding skier, who set a new downhill record for the course—23 seconds under the previous one. Montana State took the slalom, U.B.C. the downhill and Alberta the giant slalom. In the giant slalom big Bob Freeze showed real skill and headed the field.

The Alberta team consisted of Bill Armstrong, Dave Freeze, Bob Freeze, Clarence Haakenstad, Norm Rault, Bob Sutherland and Bob Turner. Norm Rault and Bob Freeze also represented Alberta at the Western Canada Ski Championships at Revelstoke, B.C.

In the Edmonton City Slalom Championships Varsity placed five of the first seven with Bob Freeze out in front, Bob Sutherland fourth, Norm Rault fifth, Clarence Haakenstad sixth and Bob Turner seventh.

curling

The Curling Club, under President John Melnyk and Honorary President Prof. Van Vliet was strengthened in its second year of operation by the addition of several new members prominent in provincial curling circles. One hundred and forty-four members curled twice a week at the Granite Club from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Though time-table difficulties made the work of the Draw Committee doubly hard this year they were very successful.

Alberta came out on the winning end in both divisions of the newly-inaugurated intercollegiate spiel, held this year in Saskatoon. Two rinks consisting of Don Butt, skip; Jack Lebeau, third; Gord McLaws, second; Dick Bearisto, lead; and Ernie Stillings, skip; Lloyd Miller, third; Howard Minchin, second; and Will Johnston, lead; brought home the honors for the men. In the ladies' play Mrs. M. Cunningham, skip; Phyllis Fraser, third; Nancy Pasco, second; and Jean Moffat, lead were more skilled than the opposing teams from Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

In the annual bonspiel for the Dr. Mathews Curling Shield, Jack Lebeau, member of a Brier rink a few years ago, skipped his rink of George Varseveld, Jack Brown and Les Warden to a well-earned title.

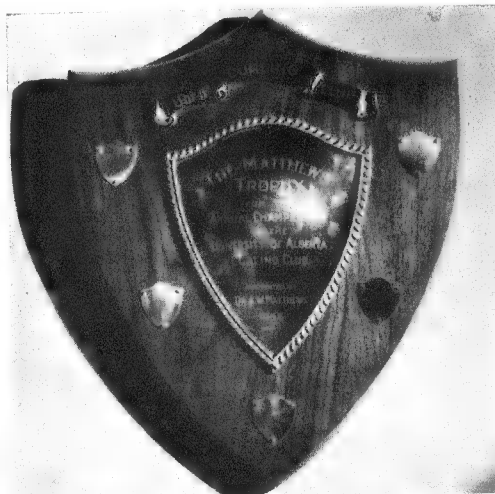

Three rinks from the Varsity Club entered the Northern Alberta Spiel. The rink of Don Butt, Jack Lebeau, John Challenge and W. H. Hewitt's foursome copped fourth in the Bank of Montreal competition.

"The Green Years" would be an excellent title for the 1946-47 season as far as the Pandas were concerned, since only three of last season's trophy-winning team returned to the campus. This meant that nine of the players had no previous experience in senior play in the intercollegiate grind. The three veterans were Captain Vera Hole, President of Basketball Shirley McPhail and Frances Stanley.

Next year seven of this year's squad will be returning. With these as a core the Pandas will have a better chance of regaining the Cecil Race Intercollegiate Basketball trophy. In the two games played at the Intervarsity meet on Feb. 1, the Pandas took it on the chin twice, going down before the Champion Huskiettes from Saskatchewan 29-16 and the Manitoba Bisonettes 28-25. Vera Hole paced the Pandas with twenty points in the two games. Joan Arnold was a bangup second with fifteen, thirteen in the second game.

The absence of a city league seriously curtailed the chances of the Pandas for outside competition. In addition to intervarsity games the Pandas played against Red Deer Ramblers twice, winning the first 31-27 at Red Deer but going down to defeat in the return match 22-32. Numerous practice games were played against Mortons, of last season's city league; in these the U. of A. squad more than held its own.

Tommy McClocklin made an excellent job of coaching the team. Starting from scratch he built up a strong nucleus from which next year's team will return to the strength displayed two years ago. The team members were Kay Tanner, Jeanne Gauld, Pat Hendel Brosz, Lil Gehrke, Frances Stanley, Evelyn Silk, Joan Arnold, Shirley McPhail, Pauline Arnett, Vera Hole, Marie Schwartz, and Donalda Lloyd.

MARION IRWIN,
Interfaculty Manager.

A late start somewhat curtailed activity in women's interfaculty basketball where five teams answered Marion Irwin's call to action. The five, Arts, Education, House Ec., Nurses, and Science played many a close and interesting game; one of the best was that in which the rough and ready school marms downed the smooth passing nurses by a nip and tuck 10-9.

Household Economics walked off with the league crown, defeating the Nurses in the semi-final and taking a close 9-8 decision from Education in the final. Members of the winning team were Manager Dorothy Jones, Betty Bell, Marg Carter, Phil Buchan, Peggy Kendrick, Nan MacQueen, and Beth Tanner.

The final standing of the teams was Household Economics, Education, Nursing, Science and Arts in that order.

Although this league was very small and was carried on for a short time only, it did not lack enthusiasm. Many of the girls played volleyball for the first time and are now looking forward to playing again next season.

The "Ag." girls were the main support of the winning Science team which consisted of: Bernice Moore, Olive Dixon, Ruth Renner, Margaret Mackay, Dorothy Bryant, and Charlotte Ward.

Runners-up were the "House Eccers" whose team members were: Beth Tanner, Ann Puchalik, Kay Puchalik, Laurine Woytkiw, and Betty Bell.

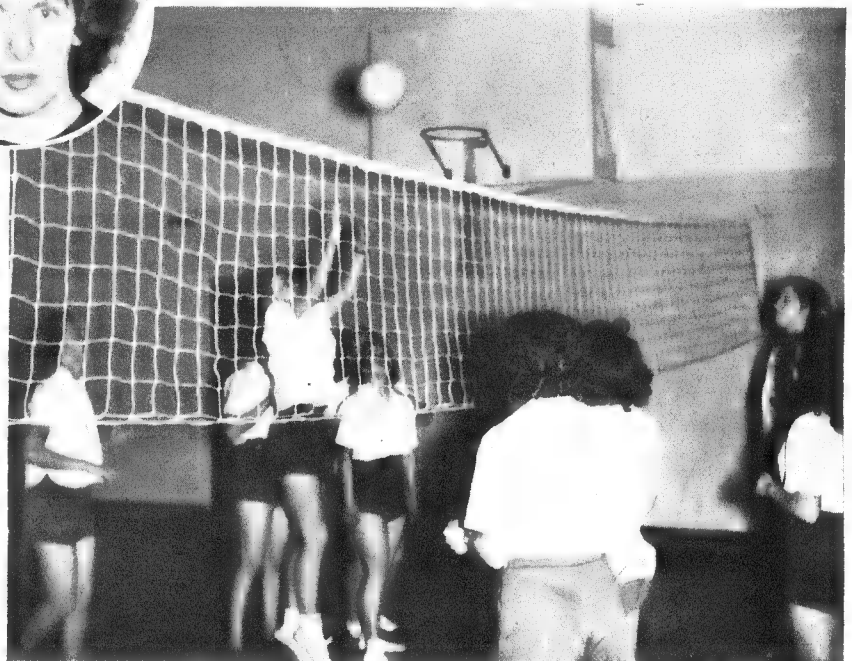

It is hoped that next year a more suitable time can be arranged for the games to enable a greater number of girls to participate.

Interfac. Manager.

archery

In 1946-47 the archery club reached a new peak in both membership and enthusiasm. The increase in male membership was especially noticeable. Twice a week the Drill Hall was the scene of flying arrows, as the amateur Robin Hoods sought to improve their scores, and improved their postures and muscles at the same time.

Excellent coaching was given by men's president Norm Danforth who, practising what he preached, walked off with the men's crown in the annual club tourney. The women's champion was women's president, Joan Hay.

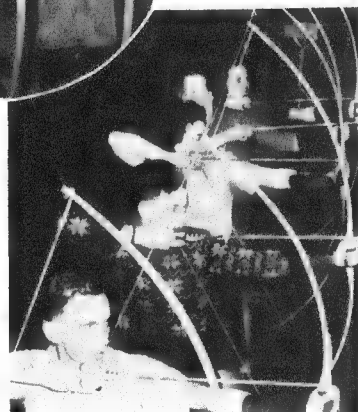

On March third the two teams chosen at the club-shoot met the Edmonton Archers for the 1947 indoor championships. The U. of A. males came out on top by a considerable margin while the women's team met defeat by a close score. Joan Hay gave a stellar performance when she defeated Bess Copeman, provincial champion, by one point.

fencing

The '46-'47 season brought the fencing club back into the intercollegiate picture with the intercollegiate meet being staged March 1st at Alberta. Only Saskatchewan and Alberta competed, with Saskatchewan easily taking the laurels. President Alwyn Scott maintains, however, that with another year's experience his group of fencers will be able to give a much better account of themselves.

The intercollegiate team consisted of Beth Whittaker, Nancy Alton, and club secretary Elaine McLean, Harry Chomick, Stan Mealing and Dean Saks.

In the Club tournament held in Athabasca gym, Harry Chomick was acknowledged King of the Fencers. Stan Mealing was rated Alberta's best in the Intercollegiate.

Next season it is expected that Dr. White of the Botany department will be aiding the tireless fencing coach Frank Wetterburg. With new foils on order and a trip to Saskatoon in the offing high interest is expected in the ancient art of fencing.

SECRETARY STU MacINTOSH.

badminton

To say that the Badminton Club had a boom year would be putting it mildly. Over three hundred members signed on under President Joan O'Rourke and her executive of Stu MacIntosh and Jack Young. In a club tournament two new singles champions topped the entry of more than one hundred. In women's singles Joan O'Rourke put an end to the three-year reign of Marge Fraser by defeating her in a close finish. In ladies' doubles Joan and Marge combined to annex the doubles title for the third successive year. Pat Darling and Jocelyn Simpson were the luckless opponents.

Men's singles play saw Norm Preston come off the stiff side of the draw to defeat Stu MacIntosh in the final. Bob Watson and Don Sneath downed Stu MacIntosh and Bill Armstrong to take the double's title.

In mixed play Marge Fraser and Stu MacIntosh outclassed Joan O'Rourke and Bob Watson.

At Saskatchewan the Badminton team made a clean sweep, taking five of seven games to become the first holders of the new Walker Intercollegiate Badminton Trophy, donated this year by Dr. O. J. Walker of the University of Alberta Chemistry department. Saskatchewan's two wins were one in Men's Singles and one in Men's Doubles.

The members of the 46-47 Intercollegiate Team were Joan O'Rourke, Marge Fraser, Eleanor Macdonald, Norm Preston, Bob Watson, Don Sneath, and Stu MacIntosh. Originally the tournament was to have been a three-way affair but at the last minute Manitoba was forced to withdraw due to money difficulties.

swimming

The swimming club mentored by Don Patterson, aided and abetted by Hazel Millet and Coach Jack Flavin, had its best season in years, with the inter-collegiate meet at Winnipeg climaxing a winter of excellent weekly tournaments.

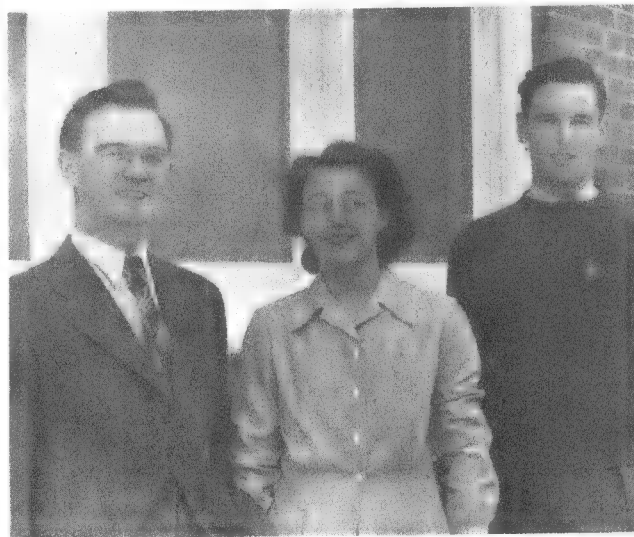

In the lone interfaculty meet Don Mackay led his Arts team to victory over the Applied Science swimmers to give the Engineers their first setback in three years of interfaculty competition. Don Moore, Don Mackay, Bob Matheson and Tom Walsh packed the Arts' wallop, while Don Dick, Jack Flavin, Bob Duthie, Rae Sutherland and Don Patterson cut the tank for the Engineers.

Top mermaids of the interfaculty meet were Irene Glen and Marion Puffer, followed closely by Mavis Appleton, Pauline Arnett, Gwen Cook, Marg Lambert and Hazel Millet.

At the Intercollegiate Meet, the first since 1942, an ill-conditioned Alberta squad took second place in the men's and third in the women's competitions, Manitoba taking both ends. Individual stars of the meet were Ned Feenan of Saskatchewan and Alberta's Don Moore, who took firsts in the 100- and 200-yard free-style, and swam a leg on the winning 200-yard relay team. The two Bobs, Matheson and Duthie added their share to Alberta's total.

Lone woman to shine for Alberta was Irene Glen, as superior Manitoba and Saskatchewan teams pulled far out in front.

When the Students' Union building with its swimming pool goes up, the swimming club will undoubtedly become the most popular club on the campus. Its present popularity has been proved by the weekly turnouts at the "Y".

university naval

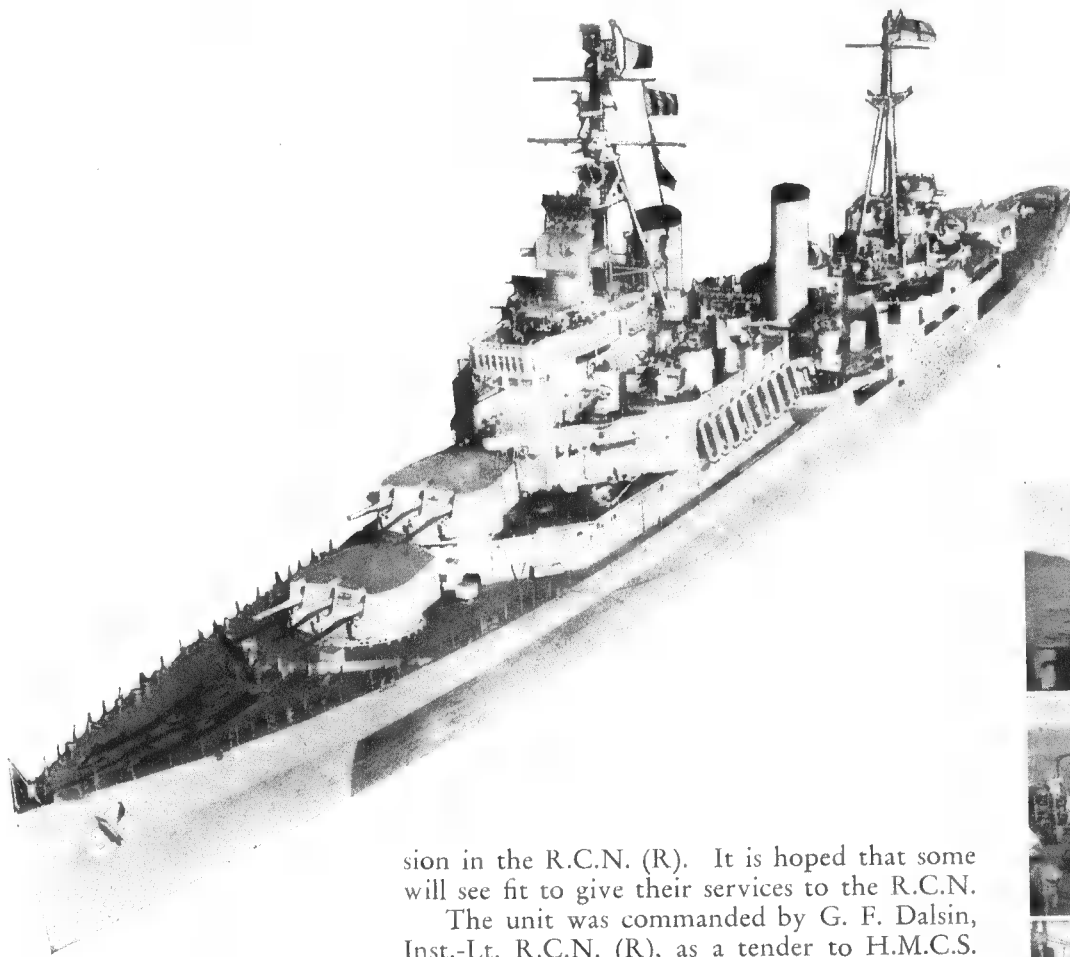

The University of Alberta Naval Training Division continues to be an active organization. As a result of reorganization on a peace time basis, the unit was drastically reduced in size this year in comparison with its wartime strength. It is hoped, however, that with greater numbers of high school graduates as freshmen, the coming years will see the unit regain its past popularity.

Naval activity has been noticeably absent from the campus this year as all training has been done aboard H.M.C.S. Nonsuch, where facilities and navy gear are available. The ratings spent three hours in training each Monday night in order to complete a sixty-hour training program, which included seamanship and gunnery in the first year division, navigation, anti-submarine, radar communications and other interesting subjects for advanced classes.

To complete this year all members will take two weeks of Naval Training aboard ship at the West Coast in the spring with either American or Northern ports as destination. A large percentage of U.N.T.D. members are planning to spend the entire summer in the naval service. Most second and third year students have successfully passed the local Selection Board and now hold Officer Candidate status in the unit. Each U.N.T.D. member should on graduating receive a commission in the R.C.N. (R). It is hoped that some will see fit to give their services to the R.C.N.

training division

The unit was commanded by G. F. Dalsin, Inst.-Lt. R.C.N. (R), as a tender to H.M.C.S. Nonsuch. The two Divisional Officers, both of whom have had North Atlantic sea-time and are now students at the University were Peter Thomas, Lt. R.C.N. (R), and Bob Hurlburt, Lt. R.C.N. (R). Instructors from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch ably assisted in the training program throughout the year.

Licut-Col. F. Owen, O.C.

The officers of the unit for 1946-47 were:

Maj. D. F. Cameron

Maj. E. Connybeare

Capt. S. J. Cornish

C. O. T. C.

The academic year 1946-47 has been a transitional year. The system of training in the C.O.T.C. has been completely changed. Members of the C.O.T.C. under the new system take their theoretical training during the academic year and the practical training during the summer months. Forty hours of lectures are given during the winter. The cadets train for four months during the summer under the supervision of the Active Army. The plan is to grant commissions on graduation to all those who qualify. Two years are required for a commission as Lieutenant in the Reserve and three years for Captain in the Reserve or Lieutenant in the Active Army.

The strength of the unit is at present set at four officers and 120 cadets, but quotas have been set this year for the different Corps, and the total number of cadets which may be taken on strength is 97.

During this year the lectures have been restricted to twenty on Military Science. In the second year cadets will have lectures on Military Geography and Military Economics, and in the third year on Military History and Military Economics.

There has been a great deal of enthusiasm for Recreational Shooting on the Rifle Range, about fifty members of the unit having taken part.

The response from the student body has been very good, and it is regrettable that all those who applied could not be taken on strength.

The following is the distribution of the cadets by Corps:

U. of A. graduates—seven thousand of them—are scattered far and wide, but they keep in touch with their alma mater and show their interest in green and gold activity through the Alumni Association—Alberta's graduate society. Aims of the Alumni Association are to promote the welfare of the University and to foster fraternity and co-operation among its graduates.

These aims find expression in many ways: Graduation Dinners, Homecoming Days, election of the Chancellor, raising of scholarship funds, and participation in University business through representation on the Board of Governors and Senate. There are branches of the Association in most of the larger cities of the country.

Membership is open to all degree and diploma holders, and to all who have completed one year's study at the U. of A.

Official organ of the Alumni Association is "The New Trail" which appears quarterly. Headquarters of activities is the office of the Alumni Secretary on the campus.

The Research Council of Alberta was established in 1919 to promote the development and conservation of the natural resources of the Province. Their work is financed by an annual vote of the Legislature, which in 1947-48 will amount to $99,425. The offices and laboratories of the Council are situated in the buildings of the University of Alberta.

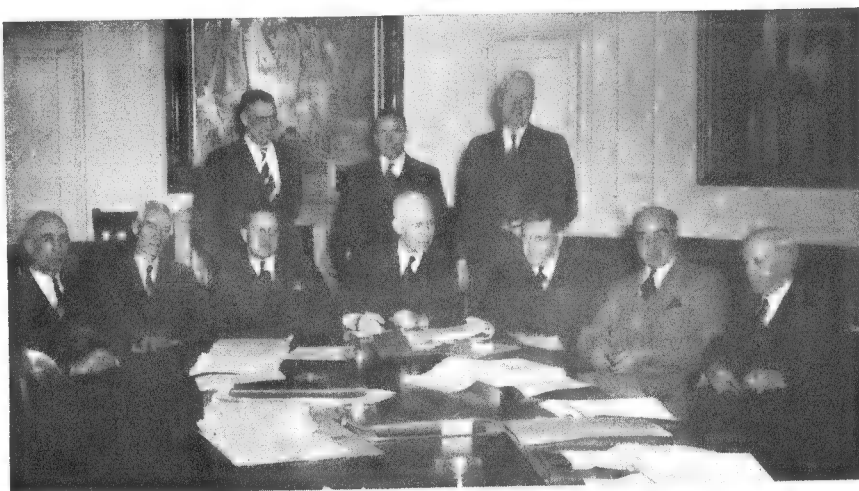

The Hon. N. E. Tanner, Minister of Lands and Mines, is Chairman of the Council; President R. Newton is Director of Research, a member of Council and Chairman of the Technical Advisory Committee; Mr. A. McCulloch is Chief Chemical Engineer; and Mr. W. A. Lang is Secretary of the Council. The Council has a full time research staff. In addition, senior members of the university staff assist with certain projects. Many university graduates and undergraduates are employed by the Council, particularly during the summer holiday season.

Projects now under investigation include: geological and soil surveys; studies in relation to the separation and utilization of bituminous sands; the analysis, classification, preparation and utilization of coal; the conversion of natural gas to gasoline and chemicals; the processing of straw for building board; the utilization of poplar; the effect of ultra violet light on biological cycles, etc. In addition the Council operates an oil and gasoline testing laboratory, and employs an Industrial Engineer to advise on projected commercial developments.

faculty of education calgary branch

Familiar to many Calgarians is the sight of streams of students trudging up the long hill on Tenth Street North West. Some are headed for the Institute of Technology and Art, some for the University Demonstration School and others for the Faculty of Education, Calgary Branch.

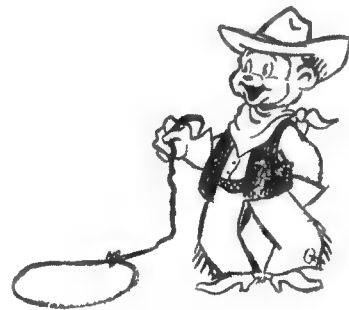

The Faculty of Education occupies the west wing of an imposing building which has a magnificent view of the mountains to the west and looks down on the valley of the Bow with the city nestling against its banks. Sharing our west wing is the University Demonstration School of ten rooms. It is staffed with experienced and highly-qualified teachers who have given us all possible assistance with our practice-teaching problems.

Compared with some four thousand students at Edmonton we are a very small unit indeed. However, most of us feel that we have gained by our small enrollment because we have come to know both students and teachers more intimately. When April comes we shall be saying good-bye, not only to the Calgary Branch of the Faculty of Education, but to a hundred new friends, not merely passing acquaintances. It has been a privilege to have the close contact with, and individual attention from our instructors. These are the links binding us closer to our Calgary school.

Two things we have in common with the University in Edmonton: the week-to-week lecture schedule and the examination ordeal. But these are by no means all. There is a newly-formed tie between us—students sharing the stimulation and direction of the University of Alberta. We feel sure that it will grow yearly into something fine and intimate.

activities

art

The Art Club, the Choral Society and the Dramatics Club have added to the enjoyment of our curriculum. Members of the Art Club have the opportunity to use their own natural talent and creative expression in any field of art which they choose: clay modelling, oil and water-color painting, sketching, portraiture and poster work have all been undertaken with very successful results.

choral

The Choral Society has broadcast several excellent programmes of music over the radio for the enjoyment of both performers and listeners. All singing was done without accompaniment and the harmony of the four parts was pleasingly effective.

The Dramatics Club has had a very successful year. The make-up, costume, and stage committees proved to be invaluable sources of information and experience.

In conjunction with the Choral Society, the Dramatics Club broadcast a Christmas play entitled "Glad Tidings," over CFCN. Members of this club have directed different plays which have been presented at our afternoon Literary meetings.

Almost everyone has belonged to at least one of these clubs which have increased school spirit and enthusiasm, and made the year more pleasant and memorable.

sports

Although the enrollment this year was not very large, there has been keen activity in sports. Our school sponsored a variety of athletic activities in which the students could participate as their interests and time permitted. Included on the sports program this year were: basketball, hockey, volley-ball, badminton, bowling and table-tennis. Everyone in the school took part in at least one sport and some participated on all of them.

Our sports convenor for the year was Grant Johnson, but each club had its own executive. When the short-course students left at the end of January, a general reorganization took place in most games, particularly in bowling.

The busiest room in the school was the table-tennis room where at every spare moment a game was in progress. This game was carried on without organization and functioned very well this way. Good sportsmanship prevailed and the tables were not monopolized, but quickly turned over to those next in line.

Next to ping-pong, the sport with the largest number of participants was badminton. Organized under a definite schedule by their capable leader Ruth Hurlburt, the students first played doubles. The tournament held late in the term was received enthusiastically.

Under the dynamic coaching of Marge Clark the girls had an active year in basketball, having played several games with outside schools and having carried on inter-class competitions. On Tuesdays and Fridays one could always see the girls, cheered on by their classmates, battling out the house-league competition, which finally ended in victory for Class B.

The boys' basketball club, with Jim Clark as leader, also had an exciting year. Along with some inter-class competitions which demonstrated the supremacy of Class A, the boys played regularly with other city teams. They showed an unusual spirit in that lose or draw made little difference. Their object was to learn the game, the technicalities of scoring, and above all to have fun.

Two games which were almost crowded out of the schedule were volley-ball and hockey, and only a few games of each were played.

In everyone's life, and particularly among students, there is a need for entertainment and relaxation. The best answer to this need is to be found in athletics. The sports program helped to make this year one that we shall cherish in our memories for years to come.

special activities

The Students' Council is composed of representatives from every class in the Faculty of Education. Through their effort the short period of our stay here has been made more worthwhile. All the activities which have been sponsored and conducted by the Students' Council have made this a most prosperous and happy year.

This year the Industrial Arts Students, mostly veterans, divided their time between Mount Royal College and the Education Building, and took an active part in classes here as well as in the shops of the Technical School.

Many informal discussions took place in the girls' lounge. Between periods those few who were attempting to catch up on last night's sleep were rudely interrupted by hilarious laughter and incessant chatter.

But school life here in this teacher-training institution would not be complete without those dreaded weeks of practice teaching. Our determination at this time to teach the younger generation was second only to their defiance of our efforts.

BEST POST-WAR SNAKE DANCE

Greatest Frosh Class Make Merry on Campus

Traffic was snarled in downtown Edmonton on Tuesday evening of last week as baby-bonneted Freshmen and inspired upperclassmen wove confusion into street railway schedules. It was Freshmen Introduction Week on the Alberta campus.

Warned in advance by city newspapers that a special mode of decoration had been adopted for this year's frosh, hundreds of students entered the Students' Union registration line with some timidity on Monday, September 23rd. At the head of the line a pretty member of the Introduction staff was on hand to remove $1.00 from each Frosh and in turn to supply a green and gold baby bonnet, a handbook for Frosh and a card good for admission to the week's events.

Upperclasswomen were stationed in the Arts Rotunda during the first days of registration to act as guides to Frosh to the various sights of the campus.

Posters created by Dick Sherbanuk and his publicity crew gaily welcomed the Freshman to the campus though some of the more risqué of these had disappeared by official hand on the next day while others had become collector's items. One sign directing Freshettes to Athabasca for their physical examination created no little interest in that residence, though it is not reported that any girl followed the instructions.

Registration

On Monday evening more than 400 freshmen crowded into the Memorial Hall, known to upperclassmen as the "Mem," for the first event of the week, a smoker. Under the direction of Horace Hierlihy an ex-Army Warrant Officer, a crew of upperclassmen dished out cigarettes and pipe tobacco to the eager Frosh, later serving refreshments.

Speakers addressing the group included Dr. A. J. Cook, advisor to student veterans, Dr. P. S. Warren, Provost of the University and from major student activities Tom Ford, Editor of The Gateway; Bill Falk, Director Evergreen and Gold; Bill Simpson, University Mixed Chorus and W. G. Pybus, President of the Students' Council.

Dr. Hardy Guest Speaker At Medical Undergraduate Society Banquet in Mac.

The Medical Undergraduate Society held their 24th Annual Banquet, at 6:30 p.m., on Sept. 25, in the Macdonald hotel main dining room. The M.U.S. president, Gordon Fierheller, acted as toastmaster. The guest-speaker for the occasion was Dr. W. G. Hardy of the Department of Classics.

The banquet and ball was held earlier in the term this year in order to fete the present graduating class, the last of the accelerated course.

Opening the banquet program, Dr. H. E. Rawlinson gave a very warm welcome to the First Year Class. A toast to the Faculty was proposed by Bob Fraser, one of the graduates; which was responded to by Dr. George Hunter.

Dr. Fulton Gillespie toasted the 21 members who will receive their degrees at the special convocation on Oct. 5. Pat Kimmitt replied to this toast, with thanks and reminiscences.

The Dean of the Faculty, Dr. J. J. Ower, contributed to the general flow of wit and wisdom that was occasioned by the long anticipated departure of the class of '48. The present graduating class will be the last to leave the University until 1948, as the accelerated course of the war-time years has been discontinued.

Dr. Hardy, the distinguished guest speaker, discoursed very entertainingly on the Association of Ancient and Modern Medicine, not necessarily to the detriment of the latter. He pointed out that the "magical" origin of Greek and Roman medical practice had in a small part been retained to the present day. The speaker mentioned the derivation of rational medicine, as being due to the efforts of the early Greeks, who "by objective analysis divorced medicine from magic." The history of early medicine, its dangers and advantages were very interestingly portrayed by Dr. Hardy, who drew further parallels with possible modern trends, by comparison with the retrogression of humanity that occurred during the Middle Ages.

The success of the evening was largely due to the labors of Bill Edwards, Gordon Fierheller and Don Ulrich, who were the members of the banquet committee.

1000 at Wauneta Ball

The pastel shades of the girls' evening dresses made a colorful array as the Wauneta Society presented its annual semi-annual ball, Saturday evening in the Varsity Drill Hall. Some five hundred couples attended the University's first formal function of the fall term.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, sketches of gnomes and pixies, elfs and fairies served as colorful decorations. Corsages, worn by many of the Waunetas "dates," ranged all the way from simple white carnations to bronze chrysanthemums elaborately tied with long satin streamers. Vegetable sprays were also evident, but many seemed to have diminished in size by the conclusion of the dance. Patronizing the affairs were Mrs. P. S. Warren, Mrs. J. L. Morrison, hon. president, Miss Mamie Simpson, adviser to women students, and Miss Constance McFarlane, warden of Pembina.

Frank McCleavy's orchestra furnished the music for the program dance, with records being substituted missions. Refreshments were served at the Cafeteria, and judging from the efficiency with which the situation was handled, double intermissions may be a permanent thing at large gatherings this winter.

The committee in charge of arrangements, headed by President Lillian Gherke, included Marg Hunter, Lois Nelson, Peggy Taylor, Terry McCarthy, Jeanne Gauld and Kay Tanner.

Bears Beat Huskies For Hardy Cup

Alberta in Third Straight Victory Saturday Afternoon

By Greg Fulton

In an exhibition game played last night at Clarke Stadium, the bears made it four straight over the Huskies with a 19-6 victory. With nothing at stake, both teams opened up with dazzling passing plays, and the small crowd was treated to the best football display seen here all season. Huskies took the lead in the first quarter on a McFadyen to Woodman touchdown pass, converted by Les Williams. Bears tied it up as MacDonald intercepted a forward and galloped 40 yards for a major score. Hajash converted. Ingram put Alberta ahead for good with a kick to the deadline just before half-time. In the second half, a Fraser to DeFraine pass and an Ingram to Hobbs effort were both good for tries. Hajash converted on a pass to Fraser, and Ingram kicked a convert to end the scoring.

For the third time since it was donated by Prof. E. A. Hardy of the University of Saskatchewan some 20 years ago, the Hardy trophy is the property of the Alberta Golden Bears. By virtue of a 14-5 victory at Clarke Stadium, Saturday afternoon the Van Vliet-Daigle coached squad have made it three straight over the Saskatchewan Huskies, and thus take their place of reverence alongside the previous championship teams of 1928 and 1944.

The game produced more thrills than any of the previous efforts witnessed here this season, and the chilled crowd, which included a large section of Alumni, found lots to cheer about as a courageous fighting bank of Huskies tried vainly to stop the greatest Golden Bear team ever assembled. The highlight of the contest came in the second quarter as Jim McFadyen, Huskie halfback, caught the Bears napping on a left end sweep and galloped 87 yards for a major score. The Huskies also uncovered a dazzling pass attack that saw them complete seven out of 13 attempts.

The Golden Bears got off to a flying start in the first quarter and indications pointed to a rout as they gained seven first downs and rolled up a total of 130 yards rushing, as compared to one first down and 22 yards for Saskatchewan. Ken "Fleet Foot" Fraser opened the scoring with a 20-yard mad dash around right end for the first touchdown. Hajash converted so Alberta had a 6-0 lead as the first session ended.

Saskatchewan made a great comeback in the second quarter as they outrushed the Bears and held them in check. After McFadyen's great touchdown run, his convert attempt was blocked by Ken Moore, hard charging Alberta tackle. The half time score was Alberta 6, Saskatchewan 5.

To Visit Three Centres ... Mixed Chorus Rehearses For Tour in February

The University of Alberta Mixed Chorus will present its third annual concert on January 27 and 28 in the highlight of Edmonton's winter season for the past two years, and the present chorus is expected to measure up fully to former standards.

The Mixed Chorus was re-organized to its present form in the fall of 1944 under the leadership of Gordon Clark. At that time it had 70 members. In March of 1945 it presented its first concert in Convocation Hall, and the success was complete. Musical critics praised the performance as one of the finest that Edmonton Mixed Chorus and its conductor had brought something new to musical life in the province. They established a high-level reputation with their first appearance.

In the 1945-46 season the chorus was increased in size to a membership of 135, and became the largest group of its kind in the Dominion. The chorus, conductor and executive had profited by their experiences of the previous year, and a more ambitious program was embarked upon. The 1946 concert was held at McDougall Church, where a larger audience could be accommodated. A week after the Edmonton show closed, the chorus journeyed en masse to Calgary to present the same program, sponsored by the Optimist Club of the south city. The reception which the show received in both cities proved that the critics of the 1945 production had not been mistaken. The chorus scored another four-star success.

This year the Mixed Chorus will again sing in Calgary under the auspices of the Optimist Club, on February 5 and 6. After the show closes there, the group will entrain for Banff for a one-night stand on February 7. Another performance is scheduled to be staged in Red Deer on the following night. The music to be presented is planned to meet the approval of music lovers of all tastes. In mood, the numbers range from the rejoicing Ukrainian "Carol of the Bells" to the subdued majesty of Schubert's "Lilany," and the pensiveness of Sir Arthur Sullivan's "The Long Day Closes." Included in the program are Schumann's "Lotus Flower" and "Sunset" by Carl Mueller.

In contrast are Diack's "Jack and Jill," and also a group of concert rounds. Arrangements of some Negro spirituals by Noble Cain are on the program.

Since October the chorus has been in regular rehearsal, and the next two weeks offer a packed practice schedule. One of the key men in the organization is the conductor, Gordon Clark. Mr. Clark is a third year Medical student, but finds time to conduct the chorus, plays the cello in the Edmonton Symphony, and conducts the CKUA Glee Club. Marie Wier handles the job of accompanist. She can miss no rehearsals, for when the chorus hits a sour note she has to be on the spot to correct it. Behind the scenes of the organizational work makes demands upon the time of the executive—Claude May is Business Manager, and Bob Jack, as Chorus Librarian, does the ordering and cataloguing, and care for the music of 135 people.

The Honorary President of the Mixed Chorus is Dr. William Rowan, head of the Zoological Department of the University. He is well known to all members by virtue of the coffee parties he stages, and for the lift he gives to the group's esprit de corps. Whether the occasion is a regular rehearsal in Med 158, a full-dress rehearsal at McDougall Church, or a formal production, Dr. Rowan is present with a word of advice and encouragement.

On the road to establishment to a nation-wide reputation, the chorus has made recordings recently for audition by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The recording of "God Save the King" is contracted for by radio station CFAC in Calgary for use as its sign-off music every midnight.

Ted Bay Crowned King At ASC Mardi Gras

Saturday evening, the Drill Hall was the scene of a colorful Mardi Gras annual Arts and Science Club dance. Only 175 variously-attired couples attended, costumed from pirates to bunny rabbits. The highlight of the evening came with the entrance of the king, heralded by a trumpet fanfare, and Ted Bay, choice of campus girls, dressed in royal regalia, ascended to his position on the throne, flanked by his two princes, Colin Murray and Lloyd Eamer. Helen McGregor read the Proclamation, which said of Ted, "The women of University think you more perfectly combine all the desirable qualities of masculinity, gentlemanliness, popularity, and desirability than anyone else on the campus. You have been chosen to lead and rule over them." For the 24 hours following the ceremony, the girl had to address King Ted as "Rex," and curtsy before addressing him. Ted was then crowned by Miss McGregor, and presented with gifts from various overtown films. The ceremony was broadcast by Dick Beddoes and Guy Beaudry over CKUA.

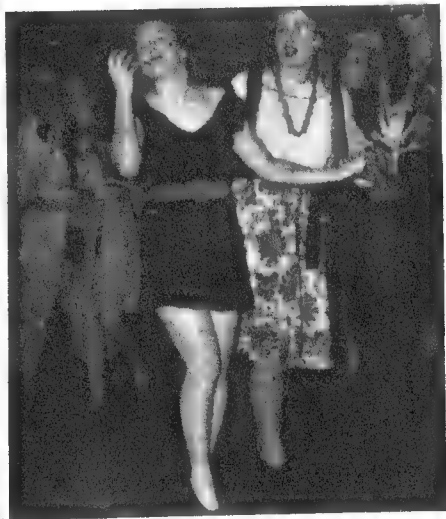

An impressive Grand March past the judges' stand resulted in costume prizes for Miss Lillian Gehlke, dressed as a very real Colin Murray, and June Sigworth and Jack Hunt, a Hindu prince and his princess. Decisions were based on originality, simplicity and ingenuity. King Ted's first duty in his new position was to present prizes to the costume winners. Other ingeniously-attired attendants were a shiek and his harem, a white-underwear clad Penelope, Governor Talmadge of Georgia, and several Colin Murrays. A few more daintily-dressed co-eds added excitement to the evening.

Decorations were probably the most original and attractive of any function held this term. Alwyn Scott and his assistants deserve much credit for converting the Drill Hall so completely into a festive hall. Surrounding the orchestra stand were Grecian-pillar colonnades, with formal swags upheld by balloon clusters. A new innovation was the use of draped canvas across the north and south ends of the hall, completely hiding the walls, and lighted by indirect spotlights from floor level. Around the throne, the true carnival spirit of the Mardi Gras was observed by a huge balloon chandeliers, large, bejewelled masks pinned on a canvas background, and pillars in pastel shades, surmounted by galaxies of balloons.

Patrons for the ball were Miss C. McFarlane, Miss M. Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Gordon, Col. and Mrs. P. S. Warren, Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Smith, Maj. and Mrs. A. A. Ryan, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Whyte, and Dr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald.

Final Examinations

Monday, April 14, will be the beginning of the final examinations in all faculties with the exception of Applied Science.

This week the Applied Science examination schedule was posted. Examinations in this faculty will begin on March 25 and will continue until April 8. Following this, there will be a two-week survey school for Engineers in their first two years.

As yet the examination schedule for other faculties has not been completed.

SHARING IN THE four-day program ending their undergraduate stay at the University of Alberta will be an estimated 400 graduates. Although the graduating class this year is expected to reach a high mark of 600, many students have been forced to receive their degrees in absentia. The majority of this group are 150 education students who have left for all corners of the province to aid in the alleviation of the teacher shortage.

This year's convocation ceremonies will see the first graduating class of student veterans, most of whom will receive degrees in arts and commerce.

A BACCALAUREATE church service, the farewell to those receiving degrees, will begin the four-day program of student and faculty activities. To take place in Convocation Hall on the campus at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, the service will be conducted by the Rev. G. B. Cairns, of St. Stephen's College. Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University, will read the lessons. Organist will be Patricia Darling. Solists will be offered by W. Croft.

On Monday afternoon in Convocation Hall valedictory exercises will take place. Miss Muriel Buchan, senior class historian, will recount the activities of the graduating class, and will say farewell to the university on behalf of the graduates.

SPEAKERS AT the valedictory exercises will be L. Y. Cairns, K.C., honorary president of the senior class, and Dr. Roy L. Anderson, class of '21. Founders Day ceremony will take place after valedictory in front of the Arts building when students and faculty will participate in planting of a tree on university soil.

An informal bus ride for graduating students will start from the campus at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Tuesday's program will feature a dinner held for graduates by the Alumni Association, and after the dinner students will hold an informal dance. Dinner and dances will be in Athabasca Hall on the campus.

Main event of the program will be Wednesday afternoon's Convocation ceremony at McDougall United Church auditorium when graduates receive their degrees, clad in the black robes and mortarboards of learning. Dr. G. F. McNally, chancellor of the university, will present the degrees.

At the ceremonies, F. E. Osborne, Calgary, will deliver the convocation address, and Mr. Osborne and Chief Justice W. R. Howson of the trial division, Alberta supreme court, will receive honorary doctorate degrees in law.

After Convocation, the Women's Faculty Club in conjunction with the Senate Committee in charge of the convocation, will hold a tea in Athabasca Hall.

Wednesday night in the Macdonald, the graduating class will complete activities with a gala formal graduation ball.

This year finds our yearbook the largest ever; both in size and financial expense.

It was a large task to finance the book that you are now reading, and the firms whose advertisements follow, greatly helped to ease our burden and make the production of the yearbook possible.

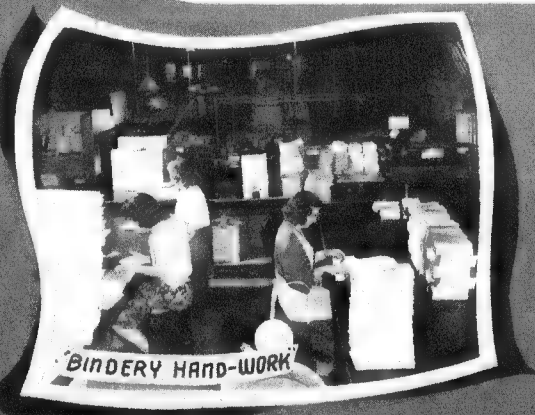

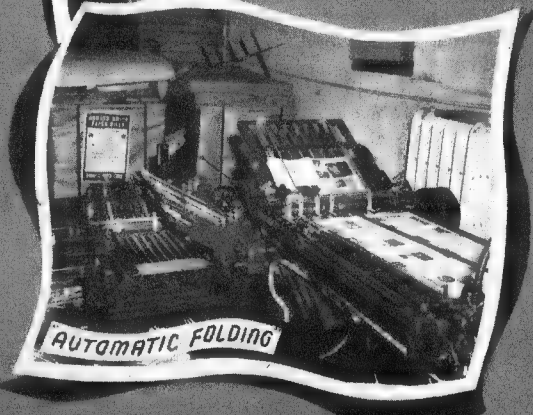

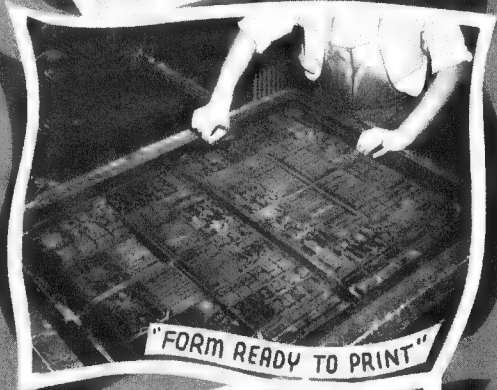

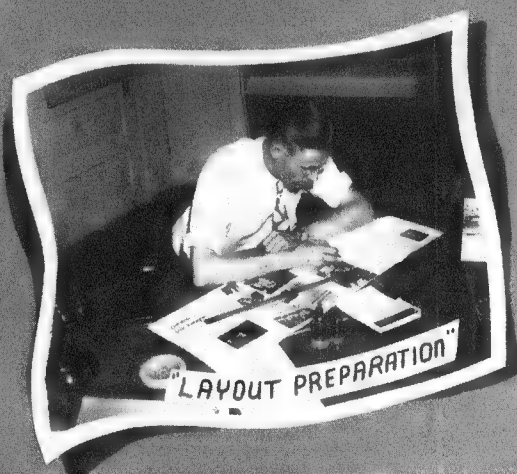

As they have co-operated with us, let us now co-operate with them, by patronizing them in every way possible.

Thank you,

Hervyn Devonshire

Business Manager '47

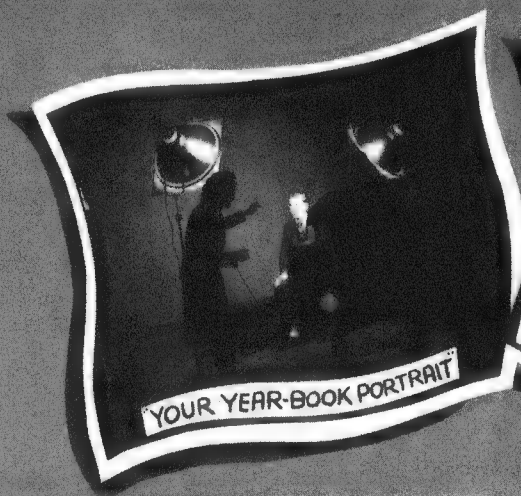

A modern, efficient printing plant, like a university, depends on the skilful co-ordination of its various departments to turn out a worthwhile finished product. In the production of Evergreen and Gold, every operation, from the preliminary layout to the final touch of the bookbinder, is performed by skilled craftsmen who take a great pride in producing the best possible work.

The same careful thought is given to every order entrusted to us, be it large or small.

RADAR at the HELM

The first commercial application of radar is Westinghouse Marine Radar. Now, for the first time, ships at sea on peace-time missions have a navigational and anticollision device unaffected by weather, storms, darkness or fog.

Westinghouse Marine Radar is already proving its worth to coastwise shipping and promises to become a standard instrument of navigation. This latest example of Westinghouse leadership in the field of electronics is still further evidence of the skill and experience which lie behind every Westinghouse product.

COMPRESSING GASES TO MAKE AMMONIA

USING NITROGEN DRAWN from the air of Alberta skies and hydrogen extracted from Turner Valley natural gas as raw materials, these Canadian Ingersoll-Rand High Pressure Compressors aid in the production of synthetic ammonia (NH_3), for the manufacture of explosives, fertilizers and other chemicals.

These Six-Stage Compressors are designed to operate at 350 atmospheres—a pressure equal to that at the bottom of the ocean—2 miles down. Each has the power of a locomotive and compresses nearly a box-car of gas per minute.

The gases enter the Compressors through a 16" intake and after compres-sion are discharged through a pipe 34 mm. in diameter.

Built at Sherbrooke, Quebec, for Alberta Nitrogen Products Limited, Calgary, these Compressors were installed in 1941 and 1942. Each unit weighs over 132 tons without its 2500 H.P. electric motor. Similar machines are operating in synthetic ammonia plants in British Columbia and Ontario.

The synthesis of ammonia is outstanding among high pressure compression processes. Other high pressure applications include the manufacture of compressed gases, synthetic rubber, plastics and petroleum products. Canadian Ingersoll-Rand has designed and built Compressors for all of these industries.

know
it too!

KNOW what, Egbert? That Ag (money) has a way of leaking through your pocket like $\text{NA}(\text{H})\text{CO}_3$ out of a busted beaker?

Well, sure! Every student knows that. And students everywhere, from U.N.B. to U.B.C., also know that the best way to sew up that leaky pocket is with a B of M Savings Account.

U. of A. students will find our Edmonton branches convenient:

THE ELECTRIC MOTOR..

Modern Workhorse of Industry

GENERAL ELECTRIC MOTORS

Wherever driving power is needed, the versatile electric motor is hard at work. And for half a century Canadian General Electric has been Canada's leading manufacturer of electric motors. Dozens of different types are built, ranging in size from 1/20 horsepower for tiny fans to huge 9,000 horsepower units for large mills. To make the electric motor even more versatile and flexible, the company produces motor starters, speed controllers, electronic devices, and other control equipments that enable the electric motor to perform tasks considered impossible a few years ago. To assist you in the selection of motors and control best suited to your needs, Canadian General Electric maintains a staff of experienced engineers.

The Commercial Life Announces
ANOTHER 10% INCREASE IN DIVIDENDS TO POLICYHOLDERS

THE COMMERCIAL LIFE IS PLANNING RIGHT NOW FOR THE FUTURE

MR. J. W. GLENWRIGHT
President, The Commercial Life.

EDMONTON, Alberta

DEAR SIR I am writing to you as President of that great Company, The Commercial Life, to express my most sincere thanks for the wonderful service and treatment which I have received. My son, James, who passed away recently in California had a policy with your Company while he was living in Edmonton. When he left, only a short time ago, for the United States he was not interested in keeping up the policy. You can imagine my grief and surprise when word was received that my son had been taken away.

I was not aware that his insurance with The Commercial Life was in effect, but without any inquiry whatever on my part your representative, Mr. F. B. Taylor, who had noticed the announcement in the local paper called to see me. Mr. Taylor explained that under the rules of your Company the insurance was still in force. Your representative was most kind and helpful in attending to the details and completion of the necessary papers and I have today received your Company's cheque.

I cannot properly express to you Mr. Glenwright, just what a relief and benefit this money has been. If it had not been for that policy I could not have brought him back for burial. This was a great comfort to me and if for no other reason I would always feel that I owed a heavy debt of gratitude to The Commercial Life.

The treatment which I have received is a testimonial to your Company for prompt and fair dealing. With best wishes for your continued success, I am,

Yours very sincerely, MRS. GEORGINA HEBDEN

WHAT DO YOU PLAN TO BE AN EXECUTIVE?

THE job has its points . . . ■ carpeted office, buzzers to push, business trips (expenses paid), personal secretaries, dictaphones. . . .

But while preparing for the upholstered seat and all that goes with it, get the habit of organizing your own affairs. Start by balancing your own personal budget. Spend no more . . . and preferably less . . . than you receive, and put small savings away faithfully as a "reserve fund" against future needs. That's smart business practice, and good training for anyone no matter what his future calling may be. Open your own savings account at our nearest branch. We welcome it.

Today's Graduates

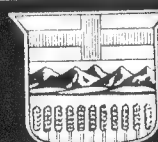

Tomorrow's Leaders

There are never enough trained people to go around. Industry as a whole faces this great and ever-troubling problem. The responsibility of industrial greatness falls, not only on the possibilities of proximity to raw materials, but also on the skills within the community. Industrial prosperity may be achieved only by the essential knowledge to meet the demands of today's constantly widening field of science and research.

The Province of Alberta stands on the threshold of development undreamed of heretofore. Rich in the requirements for modern industry . . . the future of this province stands as a challenge to the graduates of today . . . the trained leaders of tomorrow.

MAKING BETTER FARM MACHINERY FOR 100 YEARS

Since 1847 when Daniel Massey built his first little factory which was later to join hands with the firm founded by Alanson Harris, the efforts of the Company have been devoted to the production of implements to save time and labor, reduce costs and increase production on the farm.

The history of the Company has been the story of a series of epoch-making developments which have played an important part in the amazing evolution of agriculture in Canada and throughout the world during the past hundred years.

From earliest days until about 1830 seed had been sown by hand, grain had been cut with the sickle or cradle, and threshed by hand with the flail. Then in various parts of this continent, men's minds began to turn to labor-saving devices.

About 1850 began the greatest development in agriculture in the history of the world—a development in which Massey-Harris played a leading part. Within thirty years, machinery had largely taken the place of hand labor in seeding, harvesting and threshing. Soon one man could do the work formerly done by five. Production costs were reduced as much as 70 per cent.

The new machines made possible the development of the great Canadian West, and from the prairies, streams of golden wheat poured into the markets of the world.

Early in the present century came the development of power farming which again increased production and lowered farming costs.

During this whole amazing century, Massey-Harris plants were expanded time after time to supply the increasing demand for the new machines in the development of which they had played a leading part. From the far countries of the world came orders for this new machinery to eliminate farm drudgery and speed production.

Today with factories in Canada, the United States, England and France, and sales branches throughout the world, Massey-Harris has become the largest maker of farm implements in the British Empire, and the name Massey-Harris a household word throughout the world wherever grain is grown.

POWER

... by remote control!

The new Barrier Plant, seven miles up the Kananaskis River from Seebe, will operate without a single attendant. All operations will be controlled automatically or by remote control from the Horseshoe Plant at Seebe.

The dam will be about 2,100 feet long with a maximum height of 145 feet. A lake 3½ miles long and covering about 700 acres will thus be formed.

Sufficient energy will be available in a 149 foot drop to the plant to operate a 14,000 h.p. turbine and generator, which will be connected to the Company's 110,000 volt system to supply the increasing demands for power.

Picture shows plant under construction, looking down from top of dam.

To Inform To Entertain To Educate

Radio's first function is to inform the people. CFRN complete independence, its own news department, its own writers, guarantee impartial fulfillment of this function. But radio must do more than inform—it must entertain, and educate. Over 26 top network programmes each week, plus CFRN's own productions mean radio enjoyment at its best; a host of educational shows rounds out a schedule recognized as one of Canada's finest.

Jerry Johnson, CFRN's emcee of the "Talking From Tuck" programme, here interviews one of the better known campus figures, President Robert Newton. Looking on is Cliff Roy, owner-manager of "Big Tuck."

Take a guess How much capital is invested in the dairy industry?

Unless you happen to have seen the figure before, you're probably in for a surprise.

There is actually 3½ billion dollars invested in Canada's dairy industry. And here are some more facts that give some idea of its size and importance.

Dairy cows total nearly 4,000,000 — one cow for every three people. The industry takes the output of 500,000 dairy farms and produces many products besides butter, cheese, ice cream and milk concentrates. It does a yearly business of over $400,000,000 and employs, directly or indirectly, over 17% of Canada's population.

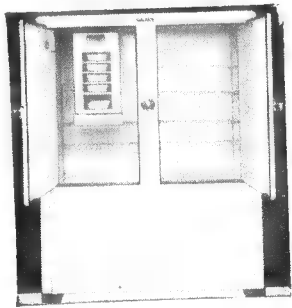

Borden's Plays An Important Part

As stated in our last annual report, the Borden Company paid out $20,840,258 to farmers and suppliers of agricultural materials, employees and for taxes. There are 42 Borden plants and branches with over 3,000 employees.

The Borden Company is aware of its great responsibility to the dairy industry and to the Canadian public. We are doing our level best to live up to the highest standards of quality and service.

Forty years ago United Grain Growers, Ltd., was founded on the principles of the world's original co-operative society . . . "The Rochdale Pioneers." The contribution which United Grain Growers, Ltd., has made to the development of agriculture over that period, stands as a lasting testimony to the faith . . . and to the ideals, of its founders. They built even better than they knew. This is ever the way with men of vision. In the years that lie ahead . . . as in the years gone by . . . young men with faith . . . and with ideals . . . will pioneer the paths of progress.

SUCCESS TO EACH OF YOU!

Woodland

Through the pattern of Edmonton's progress over the years is closely interwoven the development of her important industries. In the midst of Central and Northern Alberta's vast park lands, so ideally suited to mixed farming, it was inevitable that Edmonton should become a great Canadian centre of the Dairy Industry.

Woodland has taken a leading place in this development, giving effective, forward-looking leadership to the Dairy Industry — fostering higher breeding standards in dairy herds and increased production on the one hand—and finer dairy products for the consumer on the other.

A CHALLENGE TO THE GOLDEN BEARS!

... Now GREYHOUND Offers Accommodation For Everyone

The New Super Coaches Are Here!

Now you can enjoy complete travel comfort via Greyhound. More than 25 new Cruiser-type SUPER COACHES of an order of 75 are already in service. Now, Greyhound is in a position to offer MORE seats . . . MORE convenient schedules . . . MORE service and luxury comfort. And Greyhound's traditional LOW FARES are still the biggest bargain in travel! NOW . . . more than ever . . . you'll want to GO GREYHOUND!

Your local Greyhound Agent will be pleased to give full information regarding routes, schedules and low fares.

GREYHOUND LINES

In Appreciation . . .

It is impossible to assess the amount of thanks which is due to each individual who has helped to produce this book. For each contribution, no matter how small, we are grateful; but more important than the contribution itself is the spirit in which it was given. It was always a pleasure to work with you who gave so willingly of your time.

Among those who have assisted us, we would like to acknowledge the ready response of the Extension and the Fine Art Departments of the university when their aid was requested. The staffs of McDermid's Studios and Commercial Printers have offered many helpful suggestions which were greatly appreciated. They have tried, along with us, to make this edition of the E. & G. better than ever. Any success we have had is largely due to the indispensable help of Chuck Yackulic and Muriel Buchanan Armstrong in the organization and execution of the work, and to Elva Pearson in planning and checking set-ups and co-ordinating them with the theme. Bill Esdale was a lifesaver when he stayed after exams to help finish up, working as everything from office-boy to editor.

The rest of you are too numerous to mention individually, but I hope that each of you who worked with us this year realizes how much your help was appreciated—and that you consider the time well-spent now that you can see the final product.

Thanks for everything

Bill Falk.
